

Talk About Offensive In Korea Overshadows Shell Shortage Issue

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — The bigger issue of whether a new United Nations offensive is planned in Korea overshadowed today a Senate investigation into reported shortages of ammunition.

The Senate Armed Services Committee called a recess in what had been billed as a showdown inquiry into the assertion by Gen. James A. Van Fleet that there had been serious shortages of some kinds of ammunition for the 22 months he commanded the Eighth Army in Korea.

Behind Closed Doors

The action was taken after the committee yesterday heard Secretary of Defense Wilson say ammunition supplies have been built up sufficiently to enable the field com-

Hunt For Reds Among Clergy Stirs Protest

By HARRY P. SNYDER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Kearney (R-NY) said today he is "absolutely opposed" to any search by the House Un-American Activities Committee for Reds among clergymen and will demand a quick showdown on the suggestion.

Word from Chairman Velde (R-Ill.) that the group might sometime undertake such an investigation stirred up protests from a number of church figures, including Velde's own pastor, and approval from others.

Too Much Politics

Velde said during a radio interview Monday night that "it is entirely possible" that the committee would get into the church field, possibly looking into the records of churchmen "who seem to have devoted more time to politics than they have to the ministry."

He issued a statement late yesterday saying that such an investigation had not been considered by the committee and "is not contemplated at this time by me . . ."

His statement "does not preclude the possibility of such investigations in the future," Velde said, but he added, "there is no need as I see it to consider this matter further now."

Field Left Open

Five of Velde's eight committee colleagues promptly made clear the chairman was not speaking for them in suggesting any such inquiry. Kearney said in an interview:

"I am demanding that Chairman Velde call a committee meeting immediately."

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), perhaps Congress' best-known Red hunter, left no doubt that Velde would have the field to himself if he does try to go through with a hunt for Reds in the clergy.

"He has my complete, wholehearted assurance there is not the remotest possibility of our overlapping," McCarthy told interview-

Pair Sentenced In $49,000 Theft

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — A federal judge sentenced Virginia Iser and Louis A. Sturgis to prison terms of 15 and 20 years respectively yesterday for the $49,000 robbery of the Rosedale State Bank.

Miss Iser is 20, Sturgis 23. Judge Arthur J. Mellott said the couple had religious training yet "did not see fit to take advantage of these blessings."

"You can't put your hand on a red-hot stove and not get burned," he told them. "You can't put your arm in a buzz-saw and not get hurt."

Another young couple, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Fahnestock, charged with the Jan. 21 bank robbery also, were shot to death in Kansas City four days after the incident. Their slayers have not been found.

Sturgis and Miss Iser were captured near Pueblo, Colo., Feb. 22.

Charges Dropped

SILVER CITY, N. M., (AP) — Clinton Jencks, international representative of the Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, has dropped charges against druggist Earl Lett, who slugged him in the eye last week.

The one-blow bout was during a demonstration against production of the controversial movie "Salt of the Earth." Jencks said he was withdrawing assault and battery charges "to keep down trouble."

Truman To Get Fancy Banquet To Start Cruise

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Harry S. Truman will be able to start his world cruise on a full stomach.

The Beverly Hills Wine and Food Society will see to that on March 23, aboard the liner President Cleveland, with its stag spring banquet. The society announced the details today.

Treat For Gourmets

The former president and 72 other guests will whet their appetites at the reception with a fine French champagne (Dom Perignon '34) and such rich tidbits as caviar, shrimp and pate de foie gras.

The dinner menu, with its six accompanying wines, is something for any gourmet to behold: Oysters en half shell, Mikado; pot au feu, Miso Shiru, which is just soup; ebi - no - onigayaki, imperatrice, which is shrimp cooked in their shells in a Japanese sauce; roast sirloin of beef, Nipponaise; (the chef explains these Japanese adjuncts are mostly to dress up the menu; the sirloin will be just fine beef, that's all); artichokes with mushroom sauce; bean sprouts, sauce Kyoto; endive, Sarada Yoshida.

Finest Wines

For dessert there will be: coupe le grand duc, which is a way of saying ice cream in half a peach; Genoise legere—a large petit four (that's a cookie) and of course just the regulation-size petit fours.

Higgins Revenue Bill Sent To Gov. Williams

LANSING (AP) — Governor Williams told his bi-partisan tax conference today he will sign the Higgins Bill to give the State Treasury a temporary shot in the arm "if everything is as represented."

This followed the evaporation of objections of all but five House Democrats yesterday to giving immediate effect to the measure which advances the due date of the corporation franchise tax from August to May.

Auditor General John B. Martin Jr. hailed the breaking of the log jam on the bill as making it possible to meet almost all the school aid which will be due the end of this week.

Incidents Delay Approval Of U. S. Envoy To Moscow

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's nomination of Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen to be ambassador to Russia faced further delay today against a background of increasing tension in U. S.-Communist relations.

And the ceremonial funeral of Joseph Stalin was followed by the unceremonious burial by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee of an Eisenhower-proposed resolution to condemn Russia for "perverting" wartime agreements by enslaving free peoples.

Resolution Shuffled
Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said the shooting down of an American fighter plane by two Russian-made MIG jets in the American zone of Germany emphasized a need for speeding Bohlen to Moscow, as urged last week by the State Department, to report on and analyze such developments.

The plan of GOP leaders had been for the Senate to act on Bohlen's nomination today. But Chairman Wiley (R-Wis.) postponed until next Tuesday yesterday's scheduled vote by the foreign relations committee. He acted at the request of Senators Ferguson (R-Mich.) and Knowland (R-Calif.).

At the same session, the committee voted to postpone action indefinitely on the anti-enslavement resolution urged by Eisenhower. There were no signs it would be revived anytime soon, if at all.

Unanimity Spoiled

The Senate Democratic Policy Committee had endorsed unanimously the original administration-sponsored resolution. But the Democrats balked when the Republican majority on the foreign relations committee added an amendment saying passage of the resolution would not mean Congress was passing on the validity or the invalidity of the big power agreements made secretly in World War II.

That ended all prospect of the resolution's passage by the "substantial unanimity" sought by Secretary of State Dulles.

In view of uncertainty over what may happen inside Russia, most senators now agree with Sen. George (D-Ga.) that it is "best to hold up any resolution for the time being lest criticism of the Soviet government unify the people behind Premier Malenkov."

Montreal Bank Bandit Calmly Takes $5,000

MONTREAL (AP) — A calm robber who didn't say a word or display a gun walked out of a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada yesterday with $5,000.

Mabel Jean Summerton, 17-year-old teller, said that when the man shoved across a note to her demanding money she was so scared she pushed back two bundles.

The man walked casually from the bank and "seemed to disappear into thin air," said Saving Manager Charles Henderson.

Communists Shoot Down American Jet In Bavaria

Air Force Will Return Fire Of Reds In Future

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP) — If a Red warplane attack on an American aircraft over Western Germany was a staged test by the new Russian regime of United States mettle, the answer appears to be this:

The U. S. Air Force aims to shoot down any more flying Communist bushwhackers who come gunning into its territory.

Ambassador Acts

That was apparently what James Bryant Conant, U. S. high commissioner for Germany, had in mind when he answered questions yesterday about the incident in which two MIG15 jets swooped out of Czechoslovakia and shot down a U. S. Air Force F84 fighter 15 miles inside the American zone.

The pilot parachuted to safety. The American government immediately ordered its ambassador at Prague, George Wadsworth, to make "the strongest possible protest."

And Conant, saying he expected appropriate action to be taken, commented: "Meanwhile, I am confident that the U. S. Air Force in Germany will know how to deal with any future incursions of this type."

Fast Planes Needed

At the Pentagon an official familiar with policy said American pilots are expected:

1. To return fire, if possible, when attacked.
2. Upon finding a Red plane has invaded U. S.-controlled territory to order the Red pilot to land at the nearest U. S. airfield.
3. If the order is disobeyed, to compel obedience by gunfire.

However, the Air Force in Europe is not completely equipped to cope with the swift, fast-climbing, Soviet-made MIG15. Of six fighter wings in Europe, only one is presently outfitted with the F86 Sabre jet interceptors which have been beating MIGs in air duels over Korea. The other five units still have the F84 fighter-bomber type.

Flags Half-Staff For Groesbeck

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. Williams has ordered all flags on state office buildings to be flown at half-staff today in tribute to former Governor Alexander J. Groesbeck who died yesterday of congestive heart failure.

State flags will be flown at half-staff for a 30-day period of mourning in honor of the 79-year-old former governor.

Groesbeck served three terms as Michigan's chief executive from 1921 to 1927. His administration was marked by vigorous activity which saw the transformation of entire state government.

Gov. Williams and the State Legislature expressed official regret over Groesbeck's death. The Legislature passed a resolution in recognition of Groesbeck's service.

Spiritual Diary For Lent

Is not this the carpenter's son?—Matthew 13:55.

Build thee more stately mansions, O my soul,
As the swift seasons roll!
Leave thy low-vaulted past!
Let each new temple, nobler than the last,
Shut thee from Heaven with a dome more vast,
Till thou at length art free,
Leaving thine outgrown shell by life's unresting sea!
—Oliver Wendell Holmes

TODAY'S MESSAGE

A man is best known by his occupation. It is equally true that while a man is making his occupation the occupation is making a man. It is good when we are able to say, "He was a good man" but it is far better to be able to say, "He was a good carpenter."

The first essential for a good carpenter is a constructive imagination, which is, in turn, the first essential for constructive morals. The man who is able to draw up a plan and interpret a blueprint is in position to plan a life in harmony with God's blueprint for man's future. The man who knows his framework square is in position to recognize principles of right conduct. The man who is known as a finished workman is in position to know the stages of life's completeness and how and when to begin again.

Today is a time of destruction. The world is calling up the sons of her soldiers. To whom shall we look for a future? Who will be able to assemble and build a new order out of the vestiges of a broken civilization? Once a decaying world learned a way of preservation from "the carpenter's son."

TODAY'S PRAYER

O, God, direct our minds to the plan and our hands to the works of "the carpenter's son." Amen.

Income Tax Cut Plan Faces Test In April

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP) — A bill to cut personal income taxes 10 per cent starting July 1 appeared likely today to face a test vote in the house in mid-April.

Whether it will be confined solely to reducing the tax rate or be opened to all sorts of amendments—including one to increase the personal exemption from $600 to $1,000—may depend on the attitude of the Republican leadership of the House.

McGrath Listed As Whitewasher

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A special federal grand jury investigating racketeering has accused former Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath of using the grand jury system as a "smoke screen" and a "grandstand play."

The jury reported to Judge John W. Holland yesterday that it "refused to become a party to the McGrath scheme and permit the grand jury to be used as a whitewash for political purposes."

The report was signed by the group's foreman, President McGregor Smith of the Florida power and light company.

Shortly after the jury was empaneled a year ago, the report stated, it became "perfectly apparent that no information would be given to the jury and the U. S. attorney knew that none was available that would show the existence of crime, organized crime or racketeering."

The report added: "It was crystal clear that the jury system was being used by the attorney general's office as a smoke screen. . . ."

"On the second day of this jury's sessions, we discussed at length among ourselves the correspondence setting up these juries. We resented keenly that the head of the Justice Department would use the grand jury system as a grandstand play."

No Artillery Shows Put On For Guests, Korea General Says

By FORREST EDWARDS

WITH 7th DIVISION, Korea. (AP) — The commanding general of the U. S. 7th Division today termed "ridiculous" a statement that his division had put on artillery "shows" for visitors.

"I don't put on shows. The suggestion itself is ridiculous," said Maj. Gen. Wayne C. Smith.

It was his only comment on a Louisville (Ky.) Times story which quoted a former artillery officer with the Seventh as saying hundreds of artillery shells had been fired in "shows" for visiting congressmen, generals and correspondents.

Volleys For Training

There was no comment on the story from Eighth Army headquarters at Seoul.

The Louisville Times story identified the ex-Army officer as Garnett Dick of Louisville, a former lieutenant colonel who commanded the 57th Artillery Battalion with the 7th Division on the Central Front from April 6 to Nov. 13 last year.

A 7th Division spokesman, Maj. Stanley R. Broskley Jr., said today the Army "from time to time fires artillery test and training missions to train artillery officers and men. Such training missions are called for by Army directives. These training missions would be fired regardless of whether there were visiting dignitaries in the area."

Visible Slopes Used

Dick said the targets for the shows were on forward slopes of Chinese-held hills where any enemy troops on that side in daylight would be in bunkers. He said

College Prexy Quizzed About Reds On Campus

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate internal security subcommittee called a college president today for questioning about possible Communist infiltration of the campus.

Dr. Harry E. Gidson, president of Brooklyn College, was asked to testify at a public hearing in the subcommittee's search for "organized subversion" in the nation's schools and colleges.

Since the investigation started last fall, six members of the Brooklyn College faculty have refused to tell the subcommittee whether they were members of the Communist party.

Six Suspended
Still another swore he was not now a Communist, but he refused to say whether he had been in 1940-41 at the time of a New York state legislative investigation of communism in the schools.

A subcommittee statement today said six of these seven have been suspended by the college, and that one resigned the day before he testified under subpoena.

In refusing to answer subcommittee questions, all of them invoked the constitutional privilege against possible self-incrimination.

Soviet Raiders Attack Plane Inside U. S. Zone

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP) — A grave new incident in the cold war — the shooting down of an American jet fighter by Communist MIG15s over the U. S. zone of Germany—alarmed Western Europe today.

It was the first time Red aircraft had shot down an American plane over American-held territory.

Pilot Parachutes

Swooping out of Red-ruled Czechoslovakia, the Soviet-built trespassers destroyed a U. S. Air Force F84 Thunderjet in one blazing pass yesterday. It crashed and burned 15 miles inside American-occupied Bavaria. The pilot, 1st Lt. Warren G. Brown of Henderson, Colo., parachuted to safety and escaped with scratches and bruises.

A second Thunderjet turned and streaked back to Fuerstenfeldbruck airbase, near Munich.

Neither Brown nor his patrol mate, 1st Lt. Donald C. Smith of Marysville, O., was able to fire a shot in the sudden clash although both their F84s carried ammunition. The U. S. planes were slower, too, and less powerfully armed than their Red adversaries.

Stern Protest Made

U. S. Ambassador George Wadsworth at Prague was ordered by Washington to draft and deliver "the strongest possible protest" to the Czech Communist regime. American High Commissioner James Bryant Conant in Germany denounced the "wanton shooting" and warned that U. S. forces here "will know how to deal with future incursions of this type."

Europeans were quick to note the Communist aerial attack occurred just a day after Georgi Malenkov, the new leader of the Soviet world, had promised in Moscow to continue Stalin's "policy of preserving peace."

In such previous Communist-American air incidents as the 1950 loss of a U. S. Navy Privateer in the Baltic, the Soviet government had claimed that its own frontiers had been violated and

Abandoned Mine Traps Two Men

EMERY, Utah (AP) — Two men missing in an abandoned and burning coal mine may have to be sealed inside, Emery County Sheriff Joseph Holman said last night as weary rescue crews temporarily suspended their search.

The rescuers planned to resume efforts today to reach Albert Ricci Jr., 24, helper, Utah, and Wright M. Feott, 35, St. George, Utah, who entered the smoldering mine Monday.

The rescue crews fought cave-ins, smoke and gas, throughout yesterday.

The mine was sealed off three years ago, following a fire. When Ricci and Scott opened the mine, circulation of air apparently caught the fire to flare up and trap them.

Sheriff Holman said if rescue operations became too dangerous the workers may have to seal the missing men inside. They had entered the diggings to look for a coal cutting machine, abandoned when the mine was sealed.

Teachers Ask $100 Increase In Top Salary

A committee representing the teachers of the Escanaba Public Schools, headed by William Moorhead, last night asked the Board of Education to consider an increase of $100 in the maximum salary schedule for local teachers.

The committee also requested an increase in the teachers' sick leave from five days to 10 days in the first year and to increase the cumulative sick leave from 30 days to 60 days. A third request made by the committee was that remuneration provisions be made for teachers taking graduate studies during the school year. The board now authorizes the payment of $12 per credit for graduate studies in the summer months.

The teachers' committee told the board that the teachers regard the present maximum salaries as too low in view of increases in the schedule of starting salaries. It was explained that the state teachers retirement board is considering maximum retirement pensions on a maximum salary basis of $4800. The present maximum salary provisions for local teachers is $4300.

Board Meets Saturday

The board plans to meet Saturday afternoon to consider the budget for the next fiscal year and to consider the teachers' request.

Other actions taken by the board at its meeting last night included the following:

Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Lucille Zeno as secretary to E. E. Edick, high school principal, and approved the appointment of Dora Rose as a successor.

Accepted a report on the grades of EHS graduates in colleges which showed that 52 per cent of the grades received by such students are either A's or B's.

Approved a contract for Miss Marcia Hatcher of Oshkosh as an elementary teacher for the next school year.

Seniors Plan Ball

Awarded a contract to the Office Service Company in the amount of $67.25 for printing school checks.

Acknowledged a petition from the Probate Court of William Warrington, executor of the Grace A. Young estate, that final accounting be allowed. The will of Mrs. Young provides a bequest of $10,000 in scholarship in memory of Albert A. Young.

Received a request from the officers of the EHS Senior Class for permission to hold the Senior Ball on April 17.

Statement By Lemmer--

Effect Of Parochial High School On Public School Finances Told

Supt. John A. Lemmer of the Escanaba Public Schools last night presented to the Board of Education a statement concerning school finances and the effect of parochial school enrollments on the finances of the public schools.

Supt. Lemmer told the board that the statement is necessary to correct figures previously published and which he said gave an inaccurate picture of the public school financial situation.

The statement follows in its entirety:

"Each year I have given to the Board of Education a report on the financial condition of our schools. This information is of importance not only to Board members but to all other taxpayers, and the Escanaba Daily Press through its coverage of Board meetings has given these figures to the public. Because of a news article appearing recently which gives incorrect figures on the cost of education borne by local taxpayers and the misinterpretation of state aid as it affects our schools, it is important that any errors due to lack of complete information be corrected.

"Operating Cost $242 Per Pupil" "Such corrections become even more necessary if the mistaken idea prevails that local taxpayers contribute more to the support of our public schools than they actually do. The article in the Escanaba Daily Press stated that a parochial high school of 600 students would save $76,200 per year for our taxpayers locally. This is based on an estimated education cost of $300 per pupil minus $173 per pupil annually supplied in state fund aid. The difference between these two amounts is $127 which is regarded as the cost of each public high school student borne locally.

"Actually our operating cost for each pupil in high school last year was $242.78 and not $300.00. This figure is arrived at by adding 25 percent to the per capita cost of $194.23 in kindergarten through grade 12. It is accepted by the state aid formula that secondary education costs 25 percent more than the per capita cost for the entire school system and so we arrive at the figure $242.78. The difference between $173, our state high school membership aid and $242 is approximately only $70 rather than $127.00. Ignoring other factors, 600 should be multiplied by $70.00 resulting in $42,000 instead of $76,200 but, as will be shown later, we raise locally only $40 per child in high school. If we assume that the estimated total enrollment of 600 includes approximately 200 students now in St. Joseph's High School and the students expected from outside the city, the estimated additional saving would be even less.

"Three Factors Overlooked"

"However, there are three factors which are overlooked in the article. The first is that we must deduct two mills on our local state equalized valuation of $15,964,432 or $31,928.86. The state charges us with receiving that amount, $31,928.86, whereas actually we collected two mills on $13,336,984, our local assessed valuation. This is $26,673.96, about $5000 less than our deduction.

"We also receive Primary School Interest Fund money based on our school census which includes all the children between the ages of 5 and 20, no matter where they go to school or whether or not they go to school. This year this amounted to $96,130.89, and this is also deducted from our state aid. In other words, if we did not receive the Primary School Interest Fund money we would receive more in state aid than money ahead because children attend a parochial school or do not go to school at all.

"The third deduction we must make is the aid we receive as a result of the sales tax, $103,100.83. The total of these three items—2 mills on the state equalized valuation, the Primary School Interest Fund money, and the sales tax money—are taken from the state allowance of $153.60 per child in the grades and $173.00 per child in high school, and the balance is called state aid for membership.

"100,000 Raised Locally"

"I would not like to have the Delta County Tax Allocation Board or our supervisors think that the quoted figure of $127.00 is the cost for each high school student borne locally because they would have reason to feel that our tax allocation is too high when actually our contention is that it is too low. We have 1290 pupils in our secondary schools, grade 7 through 12, and multiplying that figure by $127.00 we would arrive at the amount $163,966.00. Obviously, local taxpayers are not paying $127 per child because we receive local taxes $100,027.38 for operating purposes, assuming 100 per cent collection. This results from a tax allocation of 7.5 on an assessed valuation of $13,336,984.

"Our total operating tax $100,027.38, provides not only for high school students but for kindergarten through grade 6 as well. Since we have 2768 in membership in all of our grades we raise in local taxes approximately $36.00 per child. However, if weighted membership is used, this becomes $32.00 per child in the grades and $40.00 per child in high school, the amount borne locally.

"The above figures have ignored debt service and capital outlay because such costs are not ordinarily included in education cost. However, to make sure that no misunderstanding results, capital outlay and debt service expenditures for 1951-52 totaled $48,390.89. Since these expenditures cannot be charged to high school costs only, the per capita cost for our 2768 membership would be $17.48 additional or $211.71.

"In a report requested by our Board of Education, Mr. Ruwittich stated that state aid decreases by about $17,000 for each 100 high school students in membership. This was correctly arrived at in using the state aid formula. This amount will be slightly offset by an eventual reduction in the teaching staff but not in proportion to the loss in membership. Obviously, very little saving can otherwise be accomplished since our present high school buildings must still be maintained.

"I realize this statement is complicated but that is because the state aid formula is complicated. I have checked the statements made above with the State Department of Public Instruction to insure their accuracy."

Production Of Timber In Delta County Area Holds Steady Level

Timber production in the Delta County area totaled about $2,150,000 this winter, Carl Sawyer, president of the Sawyer and Stoll Company and Sawyer and Stoll Co. Ltd., of Canada, said today.

Production in the area was about the same as last year and prices during the winter have held steady, the timber buyer reports.

Pulpwood production in the area totaled $1,500,000, and production of saw logs, veneer logs and boxwood totaled $250,000, Sawyer states. Cedar post and pole production totaled $200,000 as did railway tie cutting.

Six mills get product

Six mills buy timber in the area. They are the Marinette Paper company at Marinette, Wis., the Badger Paper Mill in Pesto, Wis., the Hoberg and Northern mills in Green Bay, the Kimberly Clark company at Niagara, Wis., and the Escanaba Paper company. In addition, pine and hemlock shipments are made to mills at Kaukauna, Wis., and Ontonagon, Mich., Sawyer notes.

Much of the timber cutting in this area is done by private jobbers, he states.

The Escanaba Paper company, the largest timber user in the area, reduced its buying program last fall because of high inventories.

Contracts Completed

"High production a year ago, due to good weather conditions for timber jobbing, resulted in high inventories because the Escanaba mill and other mills absorbed the extra wood rather than leave it on the jobbers' hands," Robert E. Schmeling, manager of the wood and woodlands department of the Escanaba Paper Company, explains.

Contracts for timber production this winter are about completed and nearly all timber is "in," Schmeling reports. The Escanaba paper mill buys spruce and balsam for making coated paper and other book papers.

During the winter, its contracts were about 60 per cent of the previous year's total, and the mill bought about 14,000 cords, Schmeling says.

Surviving in addition to the parents are the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Douglas of Bark River and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Carlson of Escanaba.

The body was taken to the Boyce Funeral Home where friends may call at 8 this evening. Services will be conducted by Father Francis A. Hollenbach at 11 a. m. Thursday at the funeral home chapel. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

More Motorists Given Tickets For Traffic Violations

Escanaba police so far this year have issued a larger number of tickets for traffic violations in the city than were issued for the same period last year, it was reported today by Glen S. Leonard, city safety director.

More effective enforcement, rather than an increasing number of violations on the part of drivers, accounts for the larger number of tickets issued, Leonard said.

So far this year a total of 108 tickets for moving violations have been issued, compared to 86 last year; and 112 tickets have been given motorists for defective equipment and operator's licenses, compared to 35 for the same period last year.

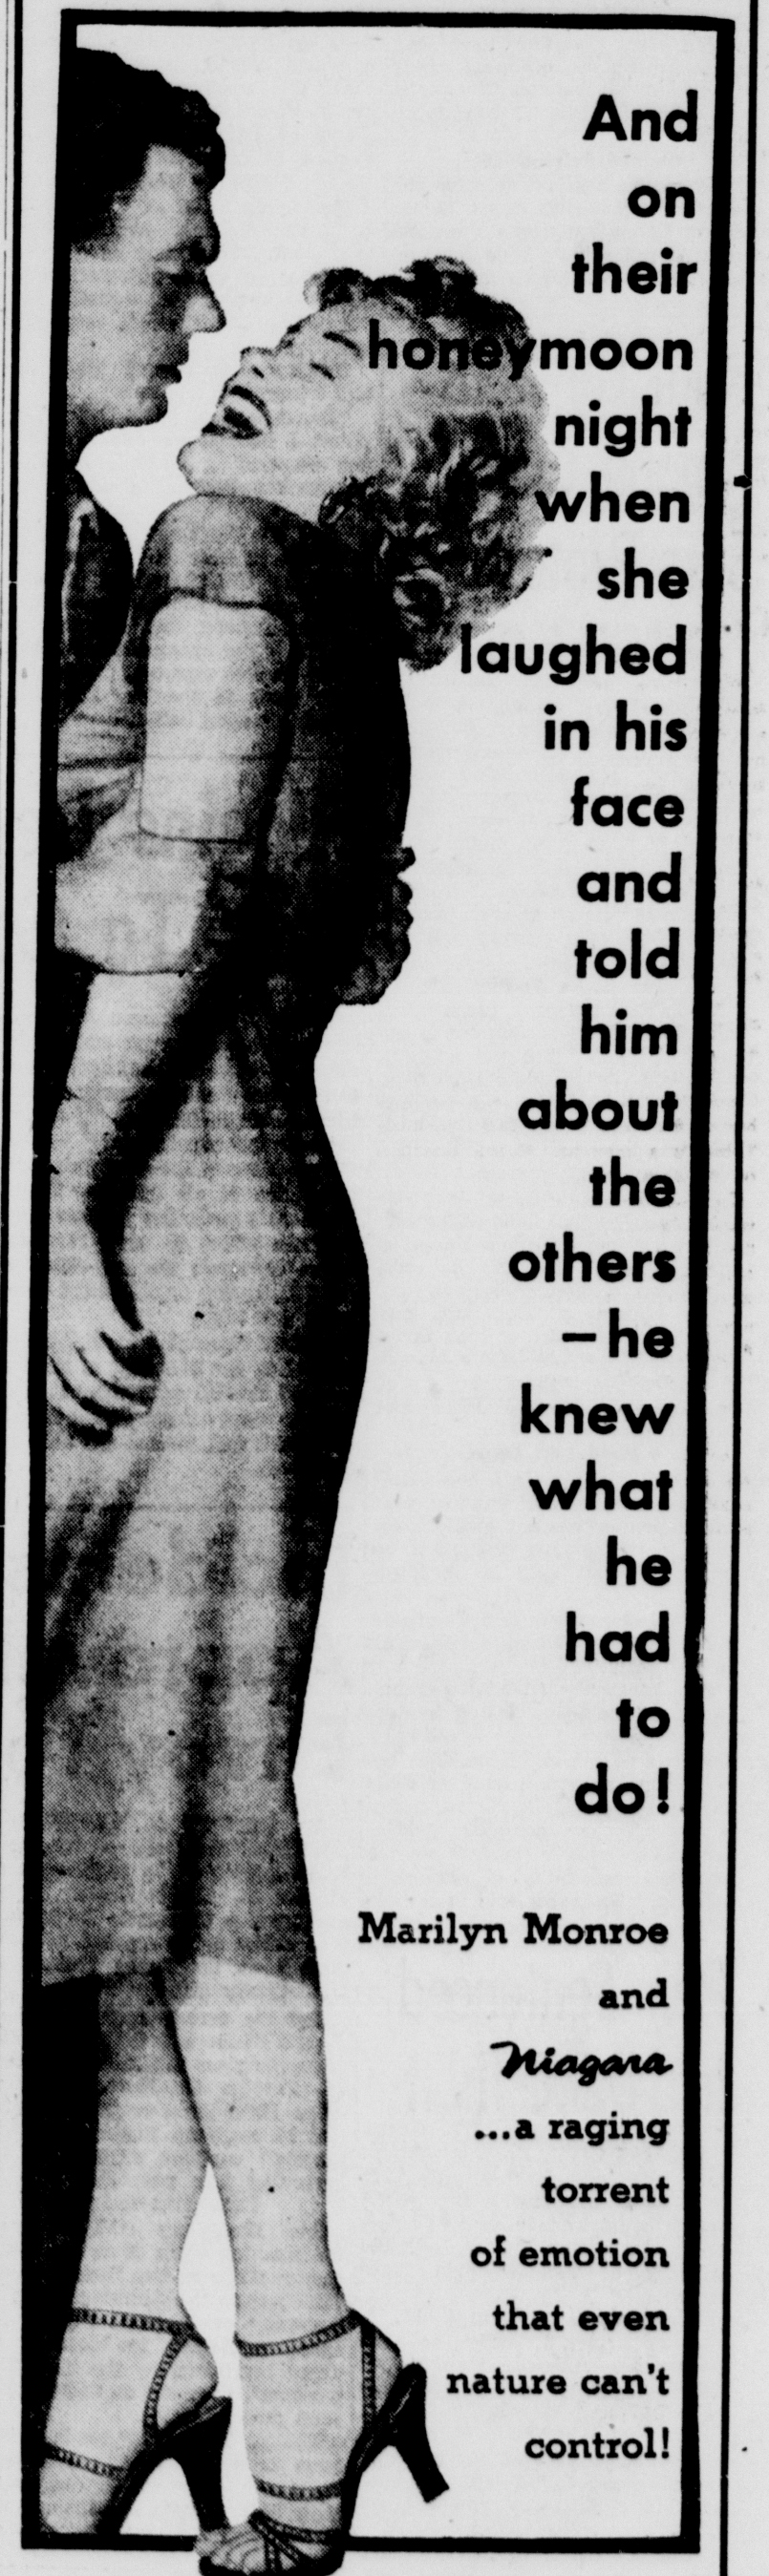

In February the police issued 72 moving violation tickets, 130 parking violation tickets, and 36 defective equipment and operator's license tickets.

Driver Training Favored By EHS Juniors, Seniors

Majority of Escanaba High School Junior and Senior students, 84 per cent to be exact, indicated they will take driver training instruction if it were offered, according to a poll conducted by the Escanaba Safety Advisory Council.

The poll of Junior and Senior students was suggested by Merton Arntzen, student representative on the Safety Advisory Council.

A total of 325 students were polled and the answers indicated most of the students favored driver training as a part of the curriculum, with instruction conducted as a part of the school day, and that they believed their parents would approve.

Results Of Poll

Glen S. Leonard, Escanaba safety director and ex-officio member of the Safety Advisory Council, reported the poll results as follows:

Of the total 325 students polled, 51 per cent are boys and 49 per cent are girls.

Fifty-four per cent of the students are from families owning one car, 26 per cent have two cars, 20 per cent were from families without cars, and the remainder are from families owning three or more cars.

Thirty-eight per cent of the students have an operator's license and 67 per cent of the students said they already know how to drive.

Eighty-four per cent indicated they would take driver training if it is offered; 59 per cent indicated they would sacrifice an elective subject for driver training if a credit is given for driver training.

Meeting Is Planned

Ninety-four per cent indicated they thought their parents would allow them to take driver training; but only 8 per cent of the students indicated they would be willing to take such training after school hours or on Saturdays.

A driver training committee of the Safety Advisory Council is expected to meet soon with the Escanaba Board of Education and school officials to further discuss the subject.

The committee includes Lyle Shaw, chairman, Mrs. Oliver Fuller, chairman of the Safety Advisory Council, Merton Arntzen and Claude Tobin Jr. Shaw is a member of the High School faculty and Tobin is a member of the Board of Education.

Besides the above the Safety Advisory Council includes James Doran, Leo Laviolette, Howard Fontaine, Roy Taylor, William Baum, Mrs. William Wycker Jr., with Councilman Jacob Bink, City Engineer Loren Jenkins and Leonard as ex-officio members.

Increase In Volume Of Tax Returns From Escanaba Anticipated

An increase in the volume of income tax returns filed from the Escanaba office of the U. P. Division of the Bureau of Internal Revenue is anticipated this year.

The increase is due to increased employment in Escanaba, according to R. P. Larsen and J. P. Bonino, internal revenue agents here.

With midnight, March 16, the deadline for filing federal income tax returns, the office here now has longer hours to accommodate those needing assistance. This week the office, on the second floor in the federal building, will be open from 8 a. m., to 8 p. m., through Friday, and from 8 a. m., to 1 p. m., Saturday.

1953 Big Year

On Monday, the last day for filing returns, the office will remain open from 8 a. m. until midnight.

The internal revenue agents assist anyone seeking aid in filing tax returns, and also help file claims. They also process excise taxes, stamp taxes and other miscellaneous taxes.

Bureau Reorganized

The Marquette division is comprised of one-third of the area of the state. Zone offices are located in Sault Ste. Marie, Escanaba, Iron Mountain, Houghton and Ironwood. Stamps for use by U. P. offices are kept at Marquette, and tax money from all of the Northern Peninsula is processed at Marquette by one being deposited in a bank there.

The division is served by 10 collections officers, formerly known as deputy collectors and now designated internal revenue agents. In addition there are four revenue agents from the audit section in the Marquette division.

Deadline March 16th

Thus it was possible to have 14 agents devote full-time to this phase of the bureau's work until the close of the filing period, Fugere explains.

"This extra service is in line with streamlining of the revenue service in an attempt to increase the efficiency of the department and to render as much service as possible to the public," Fugere states.

The deadline for filing returns this year is March 16th because the 15th, the customary date, falls on Sunday.

Unlicensed Gamblers Will Be Prosecuted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Commissioner of Internal Revenue T. Coleman Andrews indicated today prosecution of gamblers for failure to register and buy an occupation stamp will be stepped up.

The Supreme Court on Monday ruled the stamp tax law constitutional.

Andrews said today: "The action of the Supreme Court will facilitate enforcement of the occupational tax on wagering, since a number of cases involving prosecution under the act have been delayed while the issue of its constitutionality was pending."

Ore Dock Site Development Will Be Considered Here

An industrial and commercial development plan for the ore dock purchase area will be considered by the Escanaba Planning Commission at a regular meeting Thursday, March 12, at 7:30 p. m., in city council chambers. The plan was requested by the Escanaba City Council.

Some work has been done on planning for this area, but additional field survey work is needed before it can be completed, Robert Clayton, planning director, says.

The ore dock property was acquired when the War Assets Administration approved the sale of the 2,530 acres, more or less, to the city at a cost of $65,000, Dec. 16, 1946.

In February, 1951, Planning Commission members agreed that the ore dock area should not be subdivided nor provided with local streets until requirements of industries which might use the area had been determined. The commission at that time also noted that the city should retain ownership of the property.

At the meeting Thursday night, the commission also will appoint standing committees for the ensuing year. Joseph Ivens is chairman.

Old business to come before the commission Thursday includes a report on an opinion from the city attorney on the legality of amendments to the zoning ordinance which establish side yard restrictions.

A recommendation to adopt a precised plat for the area bounded by S. 19th and 23rd streets and S. 5th and 8th Ave., also will be considered. At a previous meeting, this recommendation was tabled to give new members on the commission an opportunity to study conditions in the area.

Delta Sportsmen Approve Seven Of 22 Resolutions

Seven of 22 legislative proposals presented at the meeting of the Delta County Sportsmen's Club at Carpenters Hall Tuesday evening won approval of the group. All others were turned down or tabled.

Closest decision of the evening was on the question of permitting archers to transport strung bows in automobiles. Negative votes won that one 40 to 27.

A total of 97 sportsmen attended the meeting and many voiced opinions during discussions of the many proposals.

Retention of the present bounty system and more trout planting in the upper peninsula were approved almost unanimously. Explanation by some of those concerned won approval for changes that would bring an earlier bow and arrow deer season and would permit keeping of a limited number of muskrats accidentally taken in beaver traps.

Other proposals approved would require all persons over 17 to purchase a fishing license to fish Great Lakes waters, plant trout in the fall after the close of the fishing season and give the conservation department emergency Mountain is president of the U. P. association and Miss Lucille Savage of Menominee is secretary-treasurer.

Assisting with planning for the meeting are Miss Phoebe Anderson, R.N., nursing supervisor of the Delta-Menominee health department; Miss Irene Larson, R.N., of the local health department; Mrs. Howard Gray of Iron

St. Joe Seniors' Play Is World Famous Farce

"Charley's Aunt," a three-act play which St. Joseph Seniors will present in Bonifas auditorium here April 11 and 12, is a world famous farce written in 1892 by Brandon Thomas.

It first was produced at the Royalty Theatre in London Dec. 21, 1892, and in its original production the play ran for four years.

The story of the play deals with Jack Chesney an Oxford University student violently in love with Kitty Verdun, and Charles, who is enamored of Miss Spettigue. The young men invite their friends to a luncheon to meet Charles's wealthy aunt from Brazil, but she is delayed.

Unwilling to change their plans for the luncheon, the young men force another Oxford undergraduate into a black satin skirt and other feminine apparel and introduce "her" as Charles's aunt. The real aunt then arrives, assumes another name, and comic confusion results.

During the confusion, the young Lord Bobberley tricks Stephen Spettigue into agreeing to the marriage of his ward to Charles, the real aunt marries Jack's father, Jack wins Miss Verdun and "Charley's Aunt" regains the fortune he lost at gambling and obtains the hand of the girl he loves.

In many stage and motion picture revivals the farce has played to large and enthusiastic audiences.

Donald Paterick is cast as Stephen Spettigue, Daniel Marsick as Colonel Sir Francis Chesney, James Cashin as Jack Chesney and Bob Bergeon as Charles Wykeham for the St. Joseph School production.

Others in the cast for the Escanaba presentation are Thomas Millington as Lord Farcourt Bobberley, Roger Tourangeau as Brissett, Elaine Snow as Donna Lucia D'Alvadorez, Regina Beauchamp as Amy Spettigue, Mary Valentine as Kitty Verdun and Dorothy Slosson as Ella Delahay.

We're Happy To Welcome Back The Many Tons Of Smelt

THE heavy catches of smelt through the ice this winter, 40,000 to 50,000 pounds daily at the present time, shows graphically the phenomenal comeback of these strange little fish. It also indicates that the smelt dipping season in Delta County waters next month should be tremendous, equal to pre-war years.

Smelt fishing has become big business in Delta County. At the present time it provides employment for 300 persons in this area. Virtually all of the smelt being taken now are going to markets for food for humans. Later in the dip-netting season many additional tons of smelt will be harvested as mink and cat food.

Southern Demos Balk At Hawaiian Statehood

SOUTHERN Democrats once again are ganging up in an effort to block Hawaiian statehood because they fear Hawaii—and perhaps Alaska later—will provide additional Senators who will support civil rights legislation.

The Southern Democrats have been successful in every effort in past years to block statehood for both Hawaii and Alaska. This year congressional leaders are concentrating on statehood for Hawaii only, leaving the Alaska statehood problem for a later session.

Last year the bill for statehood for Alaska was acted upon first in Congress and it was killed in the Senate, 45 to 44, on a motion to recommit the bill. The Hawaiian issue then was permitted to die a natural death.

Hawaii has earned its right to statehood and should not be denied the benefits of statehood because of the selfish whims of a small minority of Senators. Both major parties have held out the hope of statehood not only to Hawaii but to Alaska as well.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

Have you ever been in a cul-de-sac? Probably you have, but the chances are that you didn't call it that. This French expression is used chiefly by medical and military men and writers; most of the rest of us are content with an ordinary English equivalent.

Our American pronunciation is either KULL-duh-SACK, or, as some prefer, KOOL-duh-SACK (OO as in "cook"). A literal translation is "bottom of the sack." Medical men use it to designate some sac-like cavity, such as the appendix, which is open only at one end.

In military speech it means a position in which a force is hemmed in on all sides except the rear. Writers and the rest of us mean a blind alley, a dead-end street, or, in adventure stories, a place from which there appears to be no way of escape. The plural, by the way, is culs-de-sac.

Then there are decollete and the related decolletage. The preferred American pronunciation of the first, in vague imitation of the French, is DAY-kahl-TAY, though some of us give it four syllables, DAY-kah-luh-TAY. It is used to describe a garment or the wearer of a garment that is cut with a low neck. The costume itself is decollete, and we strive also for a French pronunciation by calling it DAY-kahl-TAHZH.

If you insist on the spelling deshabille you should give it the American pronunciation, DEZ-uh-BEEL, or if you take it back to the original French by placing an acute accent over each "e" you should give it the French pronunciation, dez-a-bee-YAY. But the spelling was anglicized to dishabille several centuries ago, and our present pronunciations are DIS-uh-BEEL. Don't make the first syllable "dish." The "h" is silent. However you spell it, the term relates to negligee or undress garments.

The Doctor Says . . . Seek Doctor's Advice Before Deciding To Adopt A Child

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

In most respects there are no important differences between the health problems of adopted children and those who are not. There are, however, several problems concerning adoption, or questions concerning adoption which constantly crop up and which make a great deal of difference both to the child and to the adoptive parents.

First, and most important, the question of adoption usually comes up for couples who desire children but do not seem able to have any of their own. Furthermore, there are many infants or children who are deprived of normal family life by their parents' death or perhaps economic disaster, and who can be given their birthright of family life only if they are adopted.

Thus it is frequently desirable both from the standpoint of the child to join together and form a normal family unit of parents and child or children.

It is perhaps too easy to decide "Let's adopt a child." It cannot be emphasized too often that adoption is not a step which should be taken lightly.

The physical condition both of the prospective adopted child and of the prospective parents should be given serious consideration in advance if much grief is to be avoided.

Unhappily, the files of welfare agencies contain many instances in which an adopted child has some physical defect or disease which brings much unhappiness to

The smelt are prolific little fishes. Before the winter of 1942-43 some local wags predicted that smelt would become so abundant that Andy Olson wouldn't need to build his bridge across the bay to Stonington. The fish would become so thick that you could walk across the bay on a bridge of smelt.

Then something happened. No one knows just why, but the smelt all but disappeared. They died by the billions and for a completely unknown reason. There wasn't any smelt run in the spring of 1943 nor in the next few years. Later they came back in small trickles. Each year there were more. Last spring smelt were back in abundance. And this year the rate of propagation indicates that perhaps that bridge of smelt across to Stonington may yet become reality.

Smelt are a tasty little fish. Fried in deep fat, they offer a treat to gourmets. A good smelt eater easily can handle 15 to 20 at a sitting. No bones of any consequence, either. And cheap, too.

Naturally we'll all pleased to welcome these silver little fishes back in their present abundance in Delta County waters.

President Reaches Root Of Inflation

WITH all wage controls and many price curbs removed, President Eisenhower has begun what he hopes will be an orderly transition to a freer national economy. He believes the balance of natural market forces is sufficiently good to prevent any strong new inflationary currents.

Congress must decide where the greater wisdom lies.

The President acted because he believes direct controls should apply only in all-out war, not in peace or the semi-war we have now.

This feeling is founded on two factors. One is his conviction that "the character of our people resists artificial and arbitrary controls of any kind." The other is his belief that direct controls deal with the symptoms rather than the causes of inflation, and hence are only partially effective.

He is on pretty sound ground in both cases. Americans dislike controls heartily, and submit to them willingly only when the need for sacrifice is abundantly clear. The record of the war and postwar years, as told by economists, supports the argument that direct controls don't go to the root of the matter. They don't cure inflation; they merely defer its effects until a later date.

What really fuels the inflationary engine is credit expansion and any other device of monetary policy which adds to the general money supply. Most economists agree that it is the vastly increased volume of money in circulation—set against periodic shortages of goods—that has produced the truly powerful inflationary pressures.

Mr. Eisenhower believes with them that to control inflation you must have federal credit and monetary policies which keep the money supply in check and do not allow it to outdistance the available supply of goods.

This is not a field that the average citizen finds romantic or exciting or really understandable. It involves such things as the size of the national debt, the interest rate on government bonds, the monetary reserve requirements fixed by the Federal Reserve banking system.

Labor leaders and other self-appointed champions of the consumer seem to put greater store by the more obvious direct price and wage controls. But it is the credit and money matters which are basic. And insofar as the President can fashion and enforce really sound policies in this field he will be grappling with the real heart of the inflation problem.

The Japanese crab has a limb spread of five feet and the American crab a mouth spread of—we wouldn't even attempt to guess.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Probably the only American who ever lunched with Georgi Malenkov, new dictator of Russia, is Eric Johnston, head of the motion picture industry. Visiting in Moscow in 1944 as president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, Johnston sat beside Malenkov at a luncheon given in his honor by the Soviet council of trade.

Johnston found the new dictator a man with a handshake like a sponge, who disliked the west, and sat through the entire meal almost without saying a word. Malenkov has never been out of the Soviet Union, is half-Russian, half-Tartar, had almost no association with non-Communist foreigners.

Note—Most notable event at the luncheon was a drinking bout between the U. S. military attaché, Major General John R. Deane, and a Russian general. Deane managed to drink the Russian under the table, and the last thing Johnston saw of him was two Russians dragging him out of the room feet first, his head bumping on the floor.

STALIN DECIDED EVERYTHING How other members of the politburo depended on Stalin for decisions came out during a unique conference between Johnston and Stalin. At first Stalin sat glowering behind his desk, doodling with a pencil and answering questions in monosyllables. Obviously he was not happy at being interviewed. One of his doodles looked like a woman doing contortions, and seeing it, Johnston asked:

"What is that you are drawing, Generalissimo? Miss America in distress?"

"No, why?"

"Because I'm in distress myself," Johnston replied. "I was invited here as the guest of your government, yet I find myself being treated as an intruder."

Stalin put his pencil down, glowered at his American visitor, then finally said: "No, Mr. Johnston, I'm a rude old man. There was a time when I was pleasant. But I now have the problems of the Soviet army, of Soviet production, of the Soviet air force all on my shoulders."

"Molotov can afford to be pleasant," he continued, pointing to the foreign minister. He doesn't have to make decisions. I make them for him."

After this, Stalin became relaxed and pleasant, answered all of Johnston's questions. He showed an amazing knowledge of industrial production of other countries, and when Johnston asked what Russia intended to do with its new steel output after the war, he replied:

"Make automobiles. We have a long way to go. You made 5,000,000 a year before the war, whereas we made only 350,000."

"We made only 4,000,000 a year," Johnston corrected.

"No, you made 5,000,000," Stalin insisted.

"I'm a businessman and I should know," said Johnston. "The figure is 4,000,000."

"Have it your own way," replied Stalin. "but the figure is 5,000,000."

Later Johnston looked up the figure. Including both trucks and automobiles, Stalin was right.

PRESIDENTIAL GOLF

"The less said about my golf game, the better," President Eisenhower told a luncheon of 21 congressmen after he returned from Augusta, Ga. "I had two pairs and thought I was going pretty good. Then I carded an eight for each of the next four holes."

However, he said he had "a delightful rest" even though he didn't burn up the greens.

One of the President's golfing partners, John May (Jock) Whitney, the famous sportsman, told like that he had a horse, Straight Face, running in the rich Flamingo stakes at Hialeah, Florida, the same day. Straight Face won a record purse of $116,400.

"Jock heard the good news when we got back to the club house in Augusta," the President told the congressmen, "but it didn't excite him. He acted just the same after winning $116,400. He must have a lot of money."

There was a period of suspense following the luncheon when the congressmen were touring the White House. A pearl-studded sword given like by Wilhelmina of Holland was missing from its place in an upstairs living room.

"Lock the doors and call in the secret service," several congressmen jokingly suggested.

Gen. Wilton Persons, Ike's legislative adviser, was dispatched to hunt for the expensive showpiece, finally found it in a spare room where its box was being repaired. Ike looked relieved.

"That sword is the real thing," he said. "The pearls are natural, not cultured ones. I had it insured for $50,000."

'Titoism' In Red Satellites And Rival Leadership Plague Russia

By LEON DENNEN

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Stalin's death is likely to touch off a wave of "Titoism" in the satellite countries, according to top U. S. Russian policy-makers. They foresee increased resistance to Moscow throughout Red-ruled Eastern Europe.

An outstanding authority on communism told me:

"This is the free world's big opportunity. We must use psychological and political action to follow up President Eisenhower's policy on the liberation of the peoples behind the Iron Curtain."

Resistance to Russian domination has been reported in recent weeks by U. S. intelligence from Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Rumania. However, exiled anti-Communist leaders indicated that such resistance was mostly spontaneous and unorganized.

"Real resistance won't be effective unless help comes from the West," said Karl Peyer, former President of the Hungarian Trade Union Federation. "But Stalin's death — which everyone behind the Iron Curtain has long prayed for—will most certainly increase action against Soviet imperialism."

In the view of U. S. experts, Moscow's grip on the satellites must be considered weakened until Georgi Malenkov is able to re-establish full authority in the Cominform top command.

This will surely cause widespread purges of key personnel in the security forces, the armed services and the Communist parties. The new Soviet rulers will seek to install persons they trust in key positions.

Thus, for the first time since the historic break between Stalin and Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito in 1948, the "Titoist" heresy may rise among disgruntled Reds in other Soviet-dominated countries.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles are known to believe that Western political and psychological pressure would encourage such dissidence in Eastern Europe.

With Stalin's great prestige and influence gone, reaction in the satellites may well be determined to a large extent by the alternatives the U. S. and the Western powers now place before them.

Last January, President Eisenhower appointed a nine-member board to submit recommendations for improving U. S. psychological warfare. He said that "a dynamic effort" in this field "is essential to the security of the United States and of the other peoples in the community of free nations."

Such action initiated through the United Nations would be regarded by the people behind the Iron Curtain as a flaming signal.

Psychological warfare, according to Dulles, aims to "create in other peoples such a love and respect for freedom that they can never really be absorbed by despotism, the totalitarian dictatorship of the Communist world."

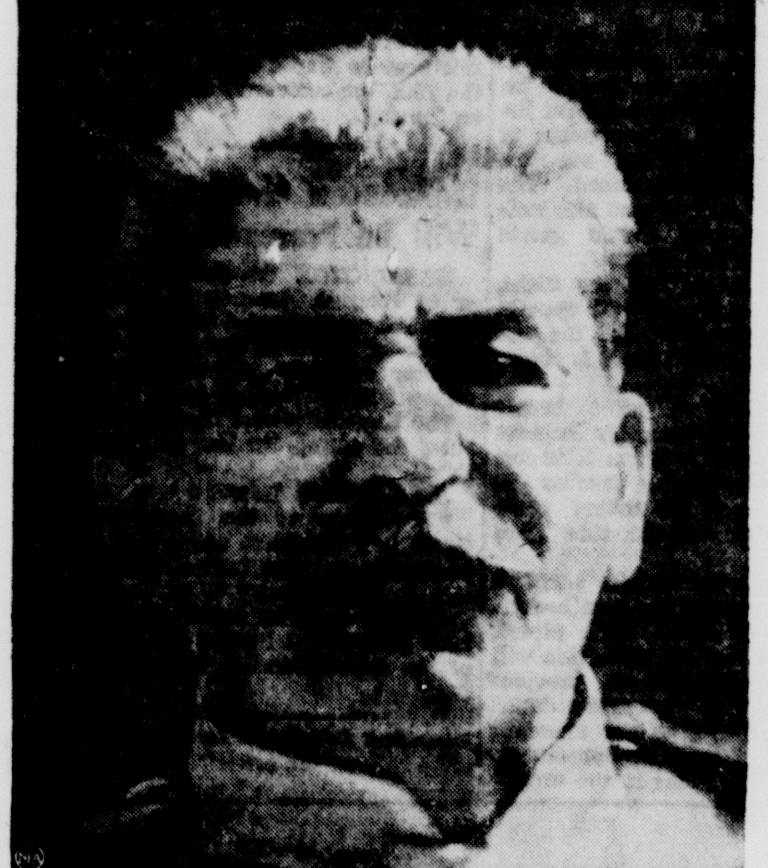

President Eisenhower made the first move in the psychological war against communism when he urged Congress in his inaugural address to repudiate the Yalta and all other secret agreements with the Russians. Action on this has been shelved for the time being.

Prominent anti-Communist exiles interviewed by the NEA suggested that now is the time for the West to press Russia to restore full freedom to Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria, Albania and the Baltic states.

Such action initiated through the United Nations would be regarded by the people behind the Iron Curtain as a flaming signal.

The President also named C. D. Jackson, former Chief of Radio Free Europe, as White House Administrative assistant. His special responsibility is to coordinate the Government's psychological warfare programs.

MOLTOV: Who lasts longest?

BERIA: He still runs MVD.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

POOR MALENKOV—American doctors are quoted as reporting that fat Georgi Malenkov, who picked up the reins laid down by Joseph Stalin, is in a poor way physically. He might kick the Russian equivalent of the bucket almost any day.

This long range diagnosis, based on a faded snapshot carefully retouched by the Politburo, should not be given too much credence. We know some people who, after being thoroughly probed by the medicals firsthand, turned out to have fallen arches rather than falling dandruff.

In the first place Mr. Malenkov now has something to live for and no doubt the Soviet doctors are carefully keeping an eye on his dubious blood pressure and other symptoms of physical disintegration. If he becomes ill they no doubt will lose their collective heads.

GREATEST DANGER — Malenkov's greatest danger, so far as we can determine from reading the press dispatches, is from two deleterious influences known as V. M. Molotov and Lavrenti P. Beria.

Both of the gentlemen named above thorough-going tricksters raised in the Bolshevik school of shooting first and asking questions afterward. They may not want Mr. Malenkov's head but they would like to have his job.

To achieve the first objective they may have to lop off a few heads, including that of the prime minister.

This places Malenkov in a very unhealthy position, not to say condition, and perhaps the American medics are right—Malenkov hasn't long to live.

THE ISOLATIONIST — Not much is known about Malenkov except that he is 51 years old, too fat by all health standards, and has never been outside of Russia.

He does not have a working knowledge of democracy and no doubt would shun such knowledge if it were placed before him. He is strictly an isolationist so far as his ambition is concerned.

Occupying the Stalin throne will no doubt keep him busier than an Arab rounding up a herd of stray goats. If Malenkov's health is bad and he should relax and take things easy he will have to forego that until a few years and several purges have passed.

The hope is, of course, that Malenkov will be so busy with his internal disorders—ranging from hardening of the arteries to controlling counter-revolutions—that he will be unable to cook up any active international intrigue.

THE LITTLE SCHEMERS—In Molotov and Beria and another gentleman named Nikolai Bulganin, the new prime minister of the Soviet Union has a fine group of schemers at his command—if he can command them.

Molotov is 63 and has been playing second fiddle in the Communist orchestra since he was 34. Perhaps that is because he has a Jewish wife and a brother-in-law who lives in New Jersey.

No loyal Trotskyite could elevate Molotov to top spot—but Molotov is ambitious, clever, patient, and he is good friend to Bulganin, boss of the Red Army.

Marshal Bulganin's army is a potent weapon to call in for a little pogrom in the Kremlin, and Molotov is sure that it will not be his head that rolls should intrigue force Malenkov to defend himself.

TOP SECRET POLICE—Mr. Beria, the other ambitious Muscovite, controls the dread MVD or secret police.

For reasons that even Beria understands he is a very unpopular man with the classless Russian masses. The secret police has caused many of them to quake with fear and then rot in Siberia.

Beria is 52, stocky, a snappy dresser by Moscow standards, and wears a pince-nez. But he has a rather unpleasant background. In 1924 Beria and his men polished off 5,000 White Russians because they thought they should have something to say about controlling their own destiny.

This made Beria a power in the Kremlin and placed him much too close for Malenkov's health. Perhaps the U. S. doctors with their long-distance diagnosis are right. Mr. Malenkov is in a very precarious situation.

Reports show that more and more people are proud of their blood relations—those with the Red Cross.

A lot of men are slaves to fashion, says an expert. Especially if they have a wife and grown daughters.

Illness Can't Keep Skelton Down Long

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — You can't keep Red Skelton floored for long. He has bounced back from his serious illness and is back on his strenuous, laughmaking schedule. Skelton is again before the cameras and microphones for his television and radio shows. He has also returned to MGM to resume filming of "The Great Diamond Robbery." He had done two days' shooting three months ago when he was stricken ill and underwent major surgery for a diaphragmic hernia.

Why Slow Down?
When I found him on the movie set, he was his usual effervescent self. He pooh-poohed the idea that he would cut down his breakneck schedule or curb his roughhouse comedies.

Laborite Urges Big 3 Meeting

LONDON — A British Laborite member of Parliament said he will ask Prime Minister Churchill to seek an early Big Three meeting with Russia's new Premier Georgi M. Malenkov and President Eisenhower.

Arthur Lewis said he would put the question to Churchill in the House of Commons on Thursday.

Lewis suggested the meeting "in view of the conciliatory nature of the first statement on foreign policy by the new Prime Minister of the USSR."

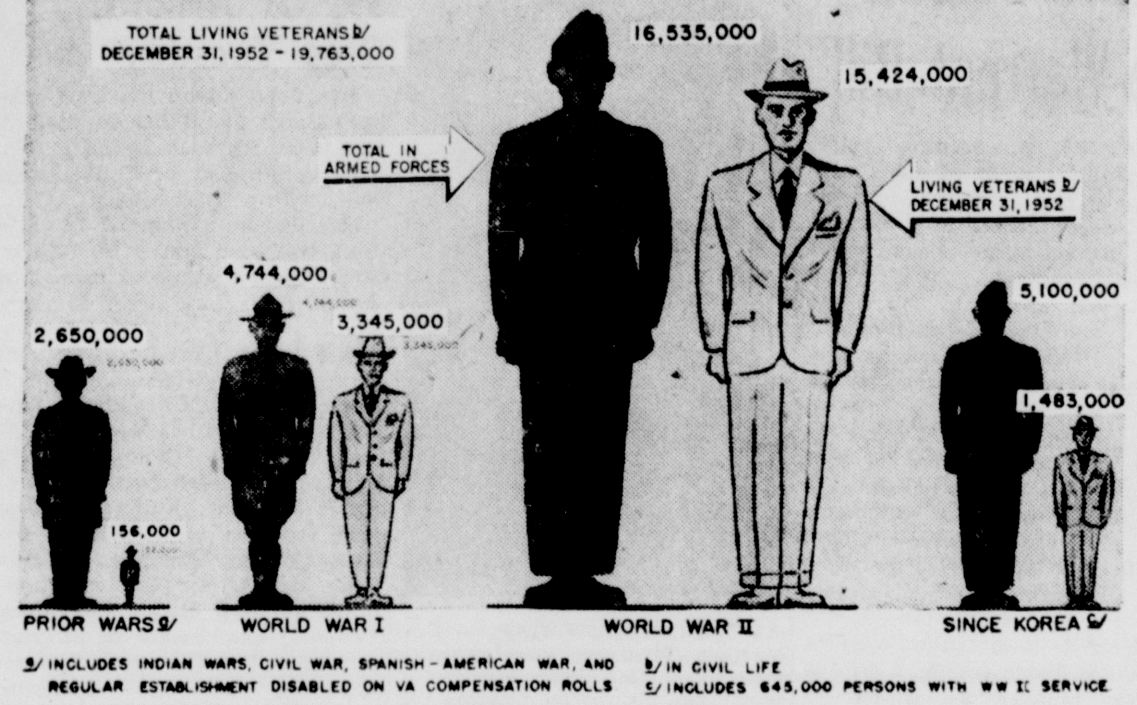

Malenkov, who succeeded the late Stalin last week, publicly pledged Russia to a policy of peace and cooperation with all other nations. He also called for further strengthening of the Soviet armed forces to repel any attack.

The 78-year-old Churchill had said more than once that he would be glad to meet with Stalin if it could be shown that any good would come from such a meeting.

President Eisenhower and ex-President Truman before him have made similar expressions.

ARMED FORCES AND LIVING VETERANS

Corpsman Routs Reds With Surgical Shears

WESTERN FRONT, Korea — DELAYED — (P) — A Navy hospital corpsman with the Marines fought off a Chinese soldier and saved a wounded comrade with "cold steel" — a pair of surgical shears. Everett C. Hartley, 29, of St. Paul, Minn., was on a night patrol which clashed with the Chinese.

Hartley was bandaging a wounded Marine. A Chinese Red soldier charged.

Bartley threw his razor-sharp shears at the Red soldier.

The surprised Chinese fled, trailing blood.

Hartley evacuated his wounded buddy without further trouble.

Train Wrecked In Howell, Mich.

HOWELL (P) — Thirty-eight railroad cars left the track here, spilling cargo and ripping down 10 telephone poles, as a Chesapeake & Ohio freight train was derailed.

No one was injured as the west-bound Toledo-to-Grand Rapids freight piled up an "awful mess" on the south side of the community, according to Livingston County Sheriff Lawrence Gehringer.

Railroad signals were smashed by careening cars in the wreck.

A Detroit spokesman for the railroad said a broken wheel on one of the freight cars apparently caused the accident.

All but two of the derailed cars were laden with cargo. Most of the cars on the 103-car train were carrying coal, the company said.

The company said that its north and southbound trains were being re-routed through Holly and Lansing.

The train's speed when the accident occurred was not determined, but the wreck happened at a point in the city where trains usually pick up speed to get up a slight grade, Gehringer said.

Veteran, 111, Weakens From Leg Amputation

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (P) — James A. Hard, oldest surviving soldier of the Civil War, had a note of sympathy from a comrade in arms as he lay in dangerous condition at General Hospital today.

The 111-year-old veteran heard yesterday from Albert Woolson, 106, of Duluth, Minn., the only other survivor of the Union Army.

Hard grew weaker yesterday. His right leg was amputated above the knee a week ago because of a circulatory disorder in the foot.

Woolson expressed "sorrow" and "regret" at the news.

Quash Charge Of Soviet Trespassers Shoot Down U. S. Jet

Charges of game law violation lodged against Jerome and Patrick DeBacker, Lawrence Bussineau and Arthur North of Watson were quashed in Marquette County Circuit court Monday afternoon.

The men were heard on an appeal from Justice Court in Gwinn by Circuit Judge Glenn W. Jackson. The four had been arrested at the opening of deer hunting season Nov. 15, 1952, by conservation officers.

Jerome and Patrick DeBacker, Bussineau and North were charged with attempting to hunt deer with the aid of an artificial light and Jerome DeBacker also was charged with illegal possession of deer.

The four originally were heard by Justice Joel Kela in Gwinn.

Judge Jackson also granted a motion to suppress the evidence, made by counsel for the defendant, in the trial of Jerome DeBacker on the charge of illegal possession of deer. The case also was an appeal from justice court.

Atty. Alger Strom of Escanaba represented the four defendants, and the state's case was presented by Edmund J. Thomas, Marquette County prosecuting attorney.

The motion to quash the charge of headlighting was granted primarily because no weapon of any kind was found when the arrest was made, Atty. Alger Strom said here today. A new law passed in 1952 states that no warrant shall be entertained or prosecution commenced unless the accused is found carrying a strong bow or firearm not enclosed in a case, broken down or locked in the trunk of a car.

On the charge of illegal possession of deer lodged against Jerome DeBacker, Judge Jackson held that the reasons for granting of a search warrant were not sufficient, and granted a motion to suppress evidence obtained in the search, Attorney Strom said.

The complaint didn't state who found the deer, nor the time when the deer was found, Atty. Strom stated nor was it stated when or by whom blood was found on the overalls of Jerome DeBacker, nor was there any allegation that such blood was from a deer, Judge Jackson also held that there should have been a connection between the deer found on the quarter section of land and the dwellings on that land for a search warrant to be issued, Strom reported.

"While it is most desirable that conservation laws be enforced and that violators be apprehended and prosecuted, yet in this state we have certain fundamental constitutional provisions, the statutes of the state and the decisions of our Supreme Court, which control issuance of search warrants. If evidence has not been obtained in accordance with the foregoing, it cannot legally be admitted in evidence," Judge Jackson said in granting the motion.

Funeral Rites For Accident Victims Friday Morning

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley E. Finnegan and daughter, Marian, of Fort Campbell, Ky., victims of a head-on collision on the snow covered Lake Springfield bridge near Springfield, Ill., Saturday, were brought to Escanaba today and taken to the Alto Funeral Home.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning at 2 p. m. Thursday. The funeral services will be held Friday morning.

Mrs. Finnegan and the 5-year-old daughter were killed instantly and Mr. Finnegan, a former resident of Escanaba and a brother of Mrs. Rex Hawbaker of this city, died Monday in St. John's Hospital, Springfield, of head and chest injuries.

The only surviving member of the family, a son, Gary, 7, was released from the hospital after treatment for shock.

State Police who investigated the accident said the collision occurred when Finnegan, northbound, swerved into the southbound lane and into the path of a 2 1/2 ton truck to avoid a collision with an automobile which was skidding out of control down the middle of the bridge road.

Crew Of Broken Tanker Rescued; Officers Missing

NEW YORK (AP)—The Coast Guard reported today that 28 crew members of the broken Liberian tanker Angy had been rescued but that eight ship officers and the captain's wife are missing.

Three Coast Guard cutters and a plane are speeding to the storm-tossed area some 400 miles southeast of St. John's, Newfoundland, in the hope of finding the forward half of the vessel afloat with the missing persons clinging to it.

According to crew members picked off the stern section of the tanker the vessel caught fire and exploded three days ago. The cause of the fire was not immediately explained.

The men were rescued by the Waterman Steamship Line's 6,492-ton freighter, Claiborne, bound for Cherbourg, France.

The Coast Guard theorized that the Angy broke in half behind the bridge and the officer's quarters, carrying away "the brains of the ship." Among the missing are the captain, his wife, all the mates, the radio operator and three seamen.

The tanker was under charter to the Gulf Oil Corporation, the Coast Guard said. She is registered out of Monrovia, Liberia, and operated by a Greek firm, S. Lavanos & Co. She carried a crew of varied nationalities.

House Defeats No-Warrant Bill

LANSING (AP)—Accusing police of "whittling away at our constitutional rights," the House yesterday trounced a bill to permit arrests in high misdemeanor cases without warrants.

The bill, sought by the State Police and other law enforcement agencies to aid them in apprehending criminals, was beaten on a 12-7 vote.

The House passed 85-7 a bill to raise the maximum fine for conspiracy from $2,500 to $10,000. It is aimed principally at gamblers, who, when charged with a felony, are usually tried under the common law against criminal conspiracy.

Deferred until today was a scheduled House vote on a bill to further broaden the powers of school districts to borrow money on anticipated state aid.

The Senate passed a House-approved measure to move the division of the Attorney General's office which collects delinquent taxes and other debts to the State Revenue Department.

Scheduled debate on a bill taking the first step to calling a constitutional convention to rewrite the State Constitution was postponed in the Senate until March 24 to permit major taxation measures and reapportionment of the Legislature to clear first.

The Senate Finance Committee called a hearing today on the bill to permit toll roads in Michigan.

38 Compensation Cases Heard Here

About 38 compensation cases from the entire Upper Peninsula were heard yesterday and today in the county courthouse by the Michigan Workmen's Compensation Commission. Hearings ended this afternoon.

All four commission members were present. They were Theodore Ryan, chairman; Wade McCree, James L. Hill, and Delbert Storie.

Three of the cases heard were review cases. Here the commission listened, said Ryan, to oral arguments on cases on appeal from the decisions of deputy commissioners.

The rest of the cases were redemption settlement cases, Ryan stated. Where a workman has been injured and a cash settlement is involved, he explained, the parties cannot settle without the commission's approval.

The commission comes to the Upper Peninsula three times a year. Their next visit will probably be in June, Ryan said.

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels and motors led the stock market up today shortly after a steady opening. As prices rose volume picked up.

The session showed more pep than the business of the past few days and there were a fair number of advances of around a point.

Most of the advances were in fractions, however. Shortly after steels and motors began to climb rails oiled the parade and there were plus signs well spread through the list.

General Motors, the country's largest manufacturing enterprise, moved up fractions as Chairman Alfred P. Sloan Jr., and President Harlow H. Curtice expressed optimism for 1953.

The company had record sales of $7,549,154,419 last year and reported a net income of $6.25 a share compared with the previous year's $5.63.

The advancing issues included U. S. Rubber, Caterpillar, Douglas Aircraft, Zenith, American Telephone, American Smelting, McIntyre—Porcupine, Allied Chemical, Du Pont, General Electric, Santa Fe, Pennsylvania, New York Central, Texas Co., U. S. Gypsum and Johns-Manville.

The incident—the first time a Communist plane has fired upon a U. S. aircraft over American-controlled territory—caused grave talk in this capital.

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) thought "we'd better give them the benefit of the doubt" on this particular incident but "two incidents would constitute a trend, and three would be a certainty." Then if it is necessary to act "we should show our strength," he said.

Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) commented crisply: "They're trigger happy, aren't they?"

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said, "This looks serious."

Polish Port Frees Six Danish Vessels

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—Six Danish fishing vessels detained since Sunday at the Polish port of Hel, near Gdansk Danzig, were released early today.

An official announcement said that all had been released at 4 a. m.

The six ships, with 23 men aboard, were detained when they sheltered at Hel during a storm raging in the Baltic sea. The detention was announced just after Denmark officially told Poland that a Soviet-built MIG-15 fighter plane landed on Bornholm by a refugee Polish Air Force pilot would be dismantled and examined by Danish Air Force experts.

Denmark's Foreign Minister Ole Bjoern Kraft said last night, however, that there was no evidence of any connection between the two events.

Israel Government To Cut Income Tax

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel's government has proposed a 216 million pound ($65 million dollars) budget for the coming fiscal year. It promises considerable income tax reductions despite a 25 per cent jump over last year's budget total.

The figures were presented to Parliament yesterday by Finance Minister Levi Eshkol, who said that the nation's foreign exchange controls would not be lifted in the near future. He said the government would curtail services and streamline the civil service in order to permit the tax reductions, including exemption of up to 70 per cent of the cost of living allowances for industrial and white collar workers.

Mild Bomb Explodes In Radio City Hall

NEW YORK (AP)—A homemade bomb exploded mildly in the Radio City Music Hall yesterday. Its "pop" reportedly attracted the attention of only one person in the audience of about 6,000.

Police later said the bomb, a section of pipe filled with explosive and with a mechanical timing device, apparently was the work of "a publicity seeker who's been doing this for years." The suspect was not further identified.

The bomb, placed in the slit upholstery under a seat, singed the coat of an unidentified woman. She said the explosion was about as loud as an electric light bulb exploding.

Poles Hold Six Danish Vessels

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, March 10 (AP)—Reliable sources reported that Communist Poland is holding six Danish fishing vessels captive in the port of Gdansk (Danzig), possibly in reprisal for Denmark's retention of a Soviet-built, Polish MIG15 jet fighter plane.

Authoritative sources said seven Danish fishing craft took refuge in the Polish port from a raging storm Sunday and were ordered to leave "in three minutes." One cutter, the Thailand, made it out in time, but the others were held.

The six ships carried a total of about 20 crewmen, the sources said. Their fate was unknown.

Through numerous Scandinavian craft have been detained by Polish Coast Guard vessels in recent years, six is the largest number ever held at one time. Political circles here viewed the action as retaliation for Denmark's failure so far to release the fugitive MIG.

The plane was flown last Thursday to the Danish island of Bornholm, 60 miles from the Polish coast, by a 21-year-old Polish fighter pilot who said he wanted political asylum. He has been held ever since by Danish authorities, who have not announced what they plan to do with him.

Noted Composer Prokofieff Dead

LONDON (AP)—One of the Soviet Union's musical greats, Sergei Prokofieff, is dead at 61. He was the victim of a cerebral hemorrhage, the same ailment that took the life of Joseph Stalin.

Black-bordered accounts in London's Communist Daily Worker and the Paris party organ L'Humanite announced the death of the famed composer of symphonies, ballets, "Peter and the Wolf," and a host of other music.

The announcement said he was buried in a Moscow cemetery on Saturday. Presumably he died sometime last week.

The western world considered him one of the greatest of modern composers. In the Soviet Union—to which he returned in 1925 after seven years in the United States and Western Europe, he was in and out of government favor. In the past several years he had made his peace with the Soviet Communist party, extolled its leaders in his work, and once more was in good standing.

Western critics, however, felt these latter compositions were not up to his earlier work.

Loose Bomb Kills 2, Wounds 15 On Carrier Off Coast Of Korea

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy reported that a dislodged bomb exploded on the flight deck of the carrier Oriskany in Korean waters March 6, killing two men and wounding 15 others.

The accident occurred when a Navy pilot, returning from a strike over North Korea, attempted to land with one of his bombs which had failed to release over the target, the Navy said.

At the moment of landing, the bomb shook loose from its wing position, bounced twice and exploded.

Five of the 15 wounded were listed in serious condition. The Navy said all of the families of the dead and injured have been notified.

None of those killed were from Michigan.

Bill Passed To Aid Naval Promotions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate passed and sent to the White House Tuesday a bill to correct earlier legislation that would have forced 5,400 naval lieutenants either to be demoted April 1 or frozen in their present grade.

The bill is frankly a temporary measure to take care of the lieutenants, who were unintentionally hit in an officer limitation aimed mostly at higher ranks. Congress still is studying the officer structure of the services.

Also, it takes the struggle out of steering, reduces the fatigue and nervous tension of long hours at the wheel. In the new Plymouth you know you've got complete control of the car and the road — and it's a mighty comforting feeling!

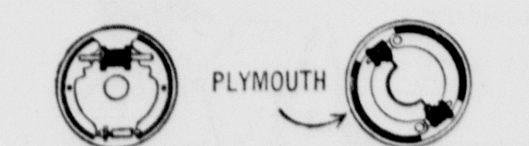

An old-fashioned "Rock of Gibraltar" hood design can keep you tense, on edge—worrying about what you can't see that's directly ahead of the car.

The new Plymouth has a low hood silhouette that lets you see more of the road directly ahead. This is modern styling—with a practical purpose!

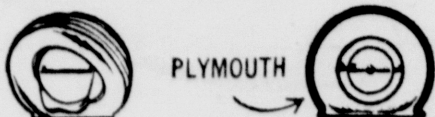

You can't relax, even on a short drive, if you're cramped or crowded in an unnatural seating position. The new Plymouth gives you the lasting comfort and posture protection of Comfort Level seats. Full-depth, full-width coil springs—not the common platform type—always give you correct, cushioned support.

Nothing builds up nervous tension like brakes that give an uncertain, uneven response to the pressure of your foot on the pedal. But with Plymouth's Safe-Guard hydraulic brakes you drive relaxed, confident of smooth, even braking response at every stop. There are two hydraulic brake cylinders in each Plymouth front wheel, where competitive cars have only one, plus greater areas of Cyclebond brake lining that assure longer, more dependable braking.

How can you relax when you have to worry about blowouts? Plymouth's famous Safety-Rim Wheels protect you with special retaining ridges that hold a deflated tire safely on the rim in case of a blowout. These and many other thoughtful Plymouth features add up to the most carefree, as well as the most comfortable, ride ever built into a low-priced car!

Whites Barred In Negro Show

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — On the advice of an 86-year-old censor, the auditorium here barred white performers from appearing before a Negro audience.

The acts were scheduled as between-the-halves entertainment in an exhibition basketball game between the Harlem Globetrotters and the Kansas City Blues, two Negro teams.

The night game Sunday was for Negroes, and the white troupe was barred. The acts were duly shown at the afternoon game for white persons.

Lloyd T. Binford, chairman of the city board of censors, explained that this was in line with the policy that "each race handle its own show."

Binford said there's a difference between white persons performing before a Negro audience and two Negro teams performing before a white audience.

"I don't think there was any social equality in the Negro ball teams playing before the white audience," he said.

Cole Confirmed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Rep. Albert M. Cole of Kansas won Senate confirmation, 64-18, as the government's top housing man despite a record of strong opposition to public housing.

HELL WRITE AND TRAVEL — At his first scheduled news conference since leaving the White House, former President Truman, above, told reporters gathered in his Kansas City office that he would publish his memoirs "in one or two volumes" in two years, and that the memoirs would first appear in a national magazine. He also disclosed that the Truman family will embark on a Pacific cruise on March 22.

Loans For Repairing Of Homes Authorized

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower signed a bill authorizing the government to insure an additional $500,000,000 worth of loans for the maintenance and repair of homes.

The bill raises from $1,250,000,000 to $1,750,000,000 the ceiling on the Federal Housing Administration's authority to insure the loans. The previous amount had been nearly exhausted.

Stevenson In Tokyo On Sightseeing Trip

TOKYO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson arrived Tuesday on his "learn, listen and see" trip around the world.

The defeated U. S. presidential candidate repeated a warning he first gave in Honolulu Saturday: It would be "dangerous indeed" for the free world to be lulled into thinking the new regime in Russia would bring an era of good feeling.

Asked if he agreed with U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles that Stalin's death enhances hopes for world peace, he replied, "I don't know. I hope that is the case. I pray that it is."

Wednesday Stevenson will be briefed on the Korean War at Gen. Mark Clark's Far East Command headquarters. He will be Clark's guest at luncheon and will visit the Tokyo Army Hospital to talk with Korean War wounded.

Cadillac Blaze Loss $300,000

CADILLAC (AP)—A roaring fire gutted four buildings in Cadillac's main business block Monday night. State Police estimated the loss as "upwards of $300,000."

Cause of the fire was not determined immediately, but Fire Chief Robert Gilchrist said it was believed to have started in papers in offices used by three doctors.

The roaring blazes in this ice-box city attracted a crowd of 3,000 and it took firemen from Cadillac, Lake City and Traverse City from 7:30 p. m. until 10:30 p. m. to get it under control. Normally Cadillac is Michigan's coldest spot.

The buildings gutted all had apartments above them, but no one was injured. Mrs. George Bertrand, who said she smelled smoke coming from the doctor's offices, turned in the first alarm.

The fire was out of hand until an aerial ladder pumper arrived from Traverse City, making the 50-mile run in 50 minutes.

Two Senators Propose Purchases For Korea

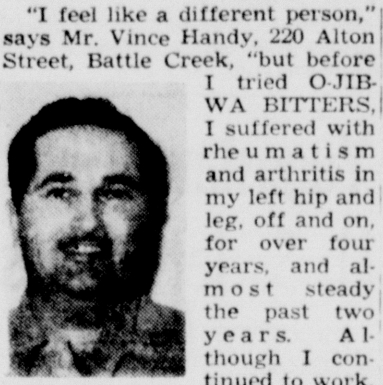

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators Case and Mundt, South Dakota Republicans proposed Tuesday that the government buy half a billion dollars worth of wool, cotton, grains, dairy, poultry and meat products for shipment to South Korea. That war-torn republic would deposit in a reconstruction fund Korean currency to pay for the products.

ARTHRITIS IN MY HIP AND LEG WAS PAINFUL—COSTLY

"I SPENT OVER $500 AND STILL WAS NO BETTER, BUT THEN TRIED O-JIB-WA BITTERS AND RESULTS WERE QUICK IN COMING."

Mr. V. Handy says Mr. Vince Handy, 220 Alton Street, Battle Creek, "but before I tried O-JIB-WA BITTERS, I suffered with rheumatism and arthritis in my left hip and leg, off and on, for over four years, and almost steady the past two years. Although I continued to work, there were many days when I didn't feel like it, and if my job had been any harder I just wouldn't have been able to take it. It was extremely hard to get around and often I had to stop and just straighten out to relieve the terrible pain for a few minutes. I spent over $500 for medicines and treatments and still was no better. The only way I could get any sleep was to use hot pads to relieve the pain. I was just dragging myself around when a friend told me I should try O-JIB-WA BITTERS. I purchased a pint bottle and by the time it was gone, I was encouraged enough to continue. Altogether, I took O-JIB-WA nearly three months, and as I've said, I feel like a different person. My rheumatism and arthritis are gone. I don't suffer anymore. I feel the best that I have in years as I sleep better and really feel good. I am glad to recommend O-JIB-WA BITTERS to anyone who suffers the aches and pains of rheumatism and arthritis. O-JIB-WA BITTERS is the surest and cheapest treatment that I found, and I'll always keep a bottle handy."

O-JIB-WA is especially recommended by CITY, PEOPLES, WAHL, BISDEE, IVORY DRUG STORES IN ESCANABA, DEHLIN DRUG, IVORY DRUG IN GLADSTONE, PUTNAM DRUG, SIDDALL DRUG IN MANISTIQUE.

Play Apologizes To Hotel Maids

NEW YORK (AP)—Peace has been restored between 7,000 AFL hotel chambermaids and the producers of a Broadway play which the maids said did not do them justice.

The maids, members of a local of the AFL Hotel and Club Employees Union, had objected to a slatternly, talkative hotel maid character in Vina Delmar's comedy, "Midsummer." They picked the Vanderbilt Theater Sunday and had planned to do the same Monday.

However, producers of the play agreed to print a theater program note, as asked by the union. The note says:

"The character of Rosie (the maid) is intended to bear no resemblance to actual hotel maids of the present day. The producers recognize the fact that the 7,000 (AFL) maids . . . are industrious and able."

Life Terms Begin For Two Killers At Hazel Park Bar

PONTIAC (AP)—Handcuffed together, young Harold Hummel and Michael Gisondi were sent off to the state prison of Southern Michigan to start their life terms.

Two armed deputies took the pair by car from the Oakland County Jail on the trip to Jackson.

A third convict, Derl Hardiman, 25, of Pontiac, sentenced to seven and a half to 15 years for armed robbery, also was taken in the car.

Before leaving the jail here, Hummel gave away to other prisoners all of his cowboy clothes, including his hat and black silk shirt.

The self-styled "Billy the Kid," who affected the garb up to the day of his sentencing, said he was afraid authorities at the prison would "take it away from me."

Hummel 22, and Gisondi, 23, were given life at hard labor for the tavern murders last Aug. 19 in Hazel Park of Vidos Vinokurov, 63, and his son, Joseph, 39. Both victims were shot to death in a holdup.

First German Gets High UN Food Post

BONN, Germany (AP)—The West German government announced that the first German has been given a leading post in the United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization (FAO).

He is Count Siegfried Von Der Recke, a top official of the West German agricultural ministry. The 54-year-old Count has been named FAO representative for South and Central America, the government said. He is scheduled to arrive in Rio de Janeiro March 15 to assume his duties.

Dr. Haitema To Direct Education On Guam

LANSING (AP)—Dr. John S. Haitema, assistant superintendent of the State Department of Public Instruction, was named director of education of the Territory of Guam.

Dr. Haitema, who failed in an attempt to get the Republican nomination for State Superintendent of Public Instruction last month, has served as principal of schools in Marne and Comstock Park, taught in the Grand Rapids schools for eight years and is a graduate of Calvin College and the University of Michigan.

Yugoslavs Given U. S. Jet Planes

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—In a driving sleet storm, the United States delivered four jet fighter planes to Yugoslavia as a symbol of American support for this country's stubborn resistance to Russian domination.

A thrilled crowd of top ranking Yugoslav military officials and foreign diplomats watched American fliers bring the planes into a big recently completed military airbase outside Belgrade. The jets cut acrobatic capers in the sky—and almost the grass of the field itself—as they swooped low in tight formation.

U. S. Ambassador George Allen, turning the planes over to the Yugoslav Air Force in a formal military ceremony, declared "the impact of this event today will be understood—not by us alone. It will be understood by anyone who desires to deprive Yugoslavia of its sovereignty and independence."

Lad Of 16 Awarded Medal By The Queen

LONDON (AP)—A timid slight lad of 16 led a glittering line of admirals, generals and air officers who passed before Queen Elizabeth II at an investiture in Buckingham Palace.

Jack Bamford, an apprentice miner from Giltbrook, received from the Queen's hand the George Cross—Britain's highest civilian decoration for bravery. He is the youngest person ever to win the award.

He was honored for rescuing his two brothers, Brian, 6, and Roy, 4, from their blazing home last October. All of the burns Jack received then have not completely healed.

He shook hands with Britain's young Queen and when she asked him if he was recovered now, he replied: "I am all right, your majesty."

"Jack Ketch" means the same as "public hangman" in England, where Ketch was a notorious executioner.

Baby Crop Running Ahead Of Food Crop

By ROBERT E. GEIGER

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Farm officials estimated the baby crop was outdistancing the food crop and asked scientists to do something about it.

Dr. Byron T. Shaw, head of the U. S. Agriculture Department's research work, said the present abundance of food is only temporary.

He said in a speech prepared for farm leaders, scientists and industrialists attending a meeting of the National Farm Chemurgic Council that the nation is growing at the rate of about 2½ million persons a year, enough to fill a state the size of Illinois or Ohio to their present density of human beings.

More Land Required

Actually an estimated 3,889,000 babies were born last year, a record U. S. baby crop. Deaths cut the net population increase, in recent years, to around 2½ million persons.

By 1975, Dr. Shaw said, the population experts say there likely will be 190,000,000 Americans, even if the present birth rate declines. If U. S. farmers are going to feed them they will have to produce almost one-third more food than in 1950 to keep living standards from falling, Shaw said.

At the present rate of production, that would require about 100 million more acres of croplands. But Dr. Shaw estimated this probably would be around 70 million more acres than farmers can bring into use economically, because nearly all the good croplands now are farmed.

Idea Cupboard Bare

Dr. Shaw said the obvious solution is to make the available acres produce as much more as 70 million more acres could. That's a job for science, he added.

But, he said, the U. S. has just about used all the bright ideas that scientists have come up with in recent years for increasing production. The science cupboard is getting bare.

Also, there is a lag of about 15 or 20 years between the time the great ideas of the past have been discovered and the time they have been applied so widely by farmers that the production increase begins to occur.

"So it may be later than we think," Dr. Shaw said. "We have to get some new ideas soon to feed those 190,000,000 Americans of 1975."

Chimp's Modern Tax Approach - - -

With the final day for income tax payment, looming closer, Marquis the chimpanzee, appearing at New York's Palace theater, settles down to figure his form—income tax form. He doesn't seem a bit worried until he finds he owes "Uncle Sam" some additional money.

Marquis, the chimp, proud of his modern equipment, settles down with an adding machine to compute his income tax for 1952. There was no griping from the chimp at this point.

With his two dependents, Mama "Baroness," center, and baby "Axel," left, Marquis seems to be asking: "Where are we going to get the dough to pay this bill, dear?"

Village Voters Defeat Women

(By The Associated Press) Voters in Southwestern Michigan villages Monday decided it was "a man's world"—at least in politics.

Residents of Mendon, Hartford, Lawton, Hopkins, and other communities went to the polls to select village presidents and other civic office-holders.

In Mendon, the election results ended a two-year reign over community affairs by women office holders. Harry Eickhoff, by a 79-69 margin, defeated the re-election bid of Mrs. Florence Dickerson.

Mrs. Dickerson paced the women's slate to victory in 1951.

Three women incumbents were beaten in races for village trusteeships, and Lloyd Miller won over Mary Osgood for village assessor.

Only Ruth Dalman survived the male landslide. Mrs. Dalman ran unopposed for village treasurer.

In Hartford, where women candidates challenged an all male list of incumbents on a two-fold basis of showing they "could do what the women of Mendon did" and to "make the kind of political change we couldn't get the men to bring about," the result was the same. All male candidates won by margins of four-to-one or better.

In Lawton, politics became a family affair. Clarence Maxim fought off a challenge by his wife, Mary, and was re-elected treasurer, 98-81.

Voters decided another family

Crop Control Mishaps Kill 49 During 1952

WASHINGTON (AP)—Forty-nine persons were killed in aerial crop control accidents last year, the Civil Aeronautics Board said.

In addition, 41 persons were injured seriously and 253 pilots survived accidents unhurt, or with minor injuries.

Cotton spraying or dusting was involved in 92 of the 343 crop control accidents, the board said. Of the accidents, 180 occurred during dusting operations, 141 during spraying, and the rest during fertilizing, seeding, grasshopper control and other operations.

Almost half of the accidents involved collisions with such objects as wires, poles, trees and fence posts.

MANILA (AP)—The chief of the Defense Department's civil affairs office says the solution of the 7-year-old Communist problem in the Philippines is in sight.

Entertainers Get It Hot And Cold Behind The Front In Korea

(The following story was written for our regular columnist, Bob Thomas, by Marine Capt. Bem-Price, an Associated Press staff writer on military leave.)

By BEM PRICE

WITH 1st MARINE DIVISION, Korea (AP)—"This," said the man with the mustache and microphone, "is coming to you from Korea."

The rattle of machine-gun fire filled the tent. "We are not far," he continued, "from where things are happening. Hey, you Marine, what do you think of Miss So-and-So's presence in Korea?"

A single .50-caliber cranked off a bass "pow."

Said the announcer brightly, "That's all the comment necessary. Thank you."

In the rear half of the tent T. Sgt. Robert Kiser of Shawnee, Kan., raised out of his sack and asked, plaintively, Captain, do I get combat pay for listening to this?"

In due time the announcer, his USO troupe and his sound track, recorded some 20 miles behind the front lines at the Marines' machine gun school, went away.

Kiser, a combat photographer, sank back into his sack and mused, "You can take the man out of Hollywood, but you can't take Hollywood out of the man."

When a USO troupe hits camp things happen. Take, for instance, the time the petite blonde decided that she was going to have a shower.

She made her way into the showers during off hours and, with great courage, stepped under the cold water.

Now this particular shower has a peculiar regulator. A man has to stand on a little platform and use his hand to determine whether the water is too cold or too hot and then he adjusts valves accordingly.

No Fair Peeking

The Marine heard the water and climbed up to his regulator. In all innocence he reached over the backboard of the shower to make a test. All he could manage upon seeing the nude blonde was "Holy cow!"

The blonde smiled and said, "You naughty boy. No fair peeking." The Marine threw tradition to the winds. He retreated.

Then there is the sad tale of the bumps and grinds specialist who was warming up in her tent before a show. She ground into a hot stove, but the show went on though each bump thereafter was a grind.

There are good shows and bad shows, but the ones the Marines are quick to appreciate are those performed under extreme difficulty. One such was the Rory Calhoun show with Lita Baron and Dawn Addams. They went on stage

Girl Scouts' Annual Cookie Sale A Success

During the recent cookie sale conducted by the Girl Scouts of Delta County 3,064 boxes of cookies were sold. Troop 15 of Gladstone, under the leadership of Mrs. Gus DeHooghe, sold the most number of boxes. Judy Fawcett of Troop 12, Escanaba, was the largest individual seller.

The Girl Scouts make a profit of 12 cents on each box of cookies sold. What the troops do with their money depends on what they need most or want most. Several troops are working towards uniforms, several will keep their money for registration fees, while still others may need their profits for camp in July. One troop is saving for a trip to Mackinac Island this summer.

Delivery of the cookies will be made to the customers of the Girl Scouts the week preceding Easter. Collections will be made at that time.

Leather gloves should never be washed following a dry cleaning, because the cleaning solvents dissolves the washable finish.

WILL BE BRIDE—Mrs. Marcella Holt of Gould City announces the engagement of her daughter, Darlene Mae, to Vernon E. Troutner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Troutner of 2436 16th Ave., Menominee.

Safe Thief Calls Cab To Haul Loot; Jailed

BUTTE, Mont. (AP)—An apparently lazy bootblack who stole a barber shop safe and called a taxi to haul it away has been given three years in prison.

Sheriff Bill Dalling said the culprit spent a night drinking and then went to a barber shop where he had been employed for two weeks. He pushed the barber's safe to the sidewalk and there called the taxi.

After depositing his doubly "loaded" fare on the outskirts of town, the driver promptly rode back and informed the police.

Hawks Trip Sentinels 3-2, Tie Hockey Playoff Series

Burt Petaja, hustling Hawk wingman, kept a stick with a puck fastened to it—in Sentinel goalie Jim DeMarinis' face all night last night and finally beat the youthful Marquette netminder at 10:50 of the final period to give Escanaba a 3-2 playoff win over the Prison City sextet.

The victory sends the semifinal playoff series into the rubber game which will be played at Marquette's Palestra Stadium Thursday night. The Sentinels had won the first game of the series by a 4-3 margin at Marquette. Winner of this series will go against the winner of the Portage Lake-Calumet series, which is also tied 1-1, for the Northern Michigan Hockey League playoff trophy.

Breaks 2-2 Tie

Petaja hit the winning goal for the Hawks midway in the third period after Marquette's Jim Eady had scored twice in the period to pull the Sentinels up to a 2-2 tie. The clincher came on a short pass in front of the mouth of the net from Mark Olson, Hawk player-coach.

The Hawks turned in one of their best performances of the season in the last-ditch battle to keep their playoff hopes alive. The game was marked by fast skating, hard checks. And offensively the Hawks never looked better as their passing game was at its st rpest.

In addition to their three goals, the Hawks had numerous clean shots at DeMarinis that resulted from fast-breaking plays and bullseye passes. The Marquette goalie turned back 30 Hawk shots.

RADARS WIN 5-1

A paying crowd of 2,438 fans saw the Calumet Radars even up their playoff series with the Portage Lake Pioneers by taking a 5-1 decision last night at Calumet. The defending champion Pioneers had won the first of the best-two-of-three series Sunday night.

seven in the first period, 12 in the second and 11 in the third.

Artwisch Sensational

Escanaba's imperturbable Ben Artwisch, whose superb goal tending has become a byword in the NM league, was sensational last night. It looked like he had a shutout in his hands when he stopped everything the Sentinels threw at him in the first two periods.

And that was plenty. He turned back 11 shots in the first and 18 in the second. His easiest period, in the number of saves, was the third in which he stopped five. But Eady found the range to score

STAR FOR HAWKS—Stars in the Escanaba Hawk victory over Marquette last night in the second game of the semifinal playoff series are pictured above. Center Len Webster, left, scored a goal and picked up an assist as the Hawks won 3-2 to tie the series at one-up. Hamilton played a big factor in holding the high-scoring Sentinels to one of their lowest goal outputs in recent weeks. Both will be in action when the Hawks invade Marquette Thursday night in the rubber game of the semifinal series. (Daily Press Photo)

In This Corner With Ray Crandall

The Menominee Maroons will be facing the only undefeated team in the Upper Peninsula when they take the floor against Coach Rudy Brandstrom's Manistique Emeralds in the Class B regional cage tourney opener Friday night at Negaunee gym. . . . Manistique has 17 straight victories this season. . . . Menominee may need all its height when they tangle with the Emeralds. . . . A key to Manistique's brand of ball may be seen in their district title game against Newberry. . . . The Emeralds got stronger and stronger as the game progressed, scoring 14, 21, 27 and 29 points for one of the biggest totals in district tourney play in the U. P.

It's a little out of our territory, but cage fans may be interested in a spectacular victory by Coach Bruce Bassler's Marinette Marines in Wisconsin high school tourney play. . . . Marinette stopped a 22-game win streak owned by West DePere in the regional finals at Oconto. . . . The West DePere team has lost only two games in the last two seasons while winning 44, and both defeats were in the regional tournament finals.

There's no question but that the Negaunee Miners have the Indian sign on Ishpeming's powerful Hematites. . . . Negaunee is the only team in the Upper Peninsula to defeat Ishpeming in its last 67 starts. . . . The Miners turned the trick in the 1951 district finals, in the 1951-52 regular season and again Saturday night in the district finals. . . . During that span of 67 games Ishpeming was also beaten by Detroit St. Andrew in the state tourney semifinals.

An unusual incident marked play in that Ishpeming-Negaunee game at Ishpeming Saturday night. . . . Negaunee's Jack Johnson, starting guard, fell to the floor and broke his glasses in the third period. . . . A nasty gash over his left eye was treated by a physician and Johnson returned to the game after borrowing a pair of glasses from a spectator.

Champ Makes Big Hit At Training Quarters

By BURDETTE B. ASHLEY

HOLLAND (AP)—Don't be surprised if training camps for more and more championship fights turn up in unexpected, out of the way places like this.

The way paying customers are being packed in at the Rocky Marciano arena here brings a smile to the face of world-wise Al Weill, the heavyweight champion's manager.

"Did you know we had to turn 'em away Sunday?" exclaims Weill, who frankly admits he was worried about the financial end of training here for Rocky's April 10 date in Chicago with Joe Walcott. A training camp, he likes to point out, is expensive business.

Near Grand Rapids

He chose this site for reasons other than financial. It is six miles from a conservative Dutch community of 20,000, on the shores of Lake Michigan, 30 miles from Grand Rapids, Michigan's second largest city.

But the way things have turned out, Weill thinks he has hit the jackpot all the way around.

"You know how it is in some places," Weill explains. "If Rocky has to take his meals in a public place he has to watch himself all the time, keep dressed up, and all that sort of thing."

"I wanted him to be away from everybody, so he could be relaxed all the while when he wasn't working, wear anything he wanted to," Weill went on.

"We got all that out here in the woods, with his own private lodge, and all. And I figure if we didn't draw as many customers, so what. It would be worth it for the privacy we got here. But see what's happened."

The last Sunday crowd Weill referred to was a capacity 1,100, which meant that at least 300 or more of the spectators, all of whom paid $1 admission, had to stand up. The arena seats 700 with crowding.

Standing room only has been the rule of both Saturdays and Sundays. Weill estimated that close to 5,000 persons have seen the champion since camp opened less than three weeks ago. Women come as well as men. One woman was carrying a baby in her arms.

"Why, many of these people have been back two and three times already," Weill pointed out.

Next spring will mark the 24th year that the Cincinnati Reds have held their spring training in Tampa, Fla.

Protest On Age Sidelines Class A School Cage Star

(By The Associated Press)

The second round of Michigan's high school basketball championship eliminations gets underway tonight with Class A schools taking the floor for the first time and Class B, C and D schools picking up competition started last week.

One class A powerhouse, Highland Park, defending champions from 1952 tournament, received a sharp boost to its hopes for a repeat.

Protest On Age

State High School Athletic Director Charles E. Forsythe Tuesday ordered Highland Park to bench its star forward Jim Engram. Forsythe acted after receiving a protest on Engram's age eligibility from Saginaw. The protest claims that Engram is too old for competition this year despite Highland Park's claim that the forward has a signed certificate proving his age to be within the allowable high school competition bracket.

Forsythe said he wanted Engram sidelined until his office has time to investigate the charge. Engram thus will miss Highland Park's opening regional tilt against Hamtramck.

Fowler Gets Win

Other Class A games on tonight's card pit Hazel Park against Ferndale; Royal Oak against Grosse Pointe; De LaSalle against East Detroit; Birmingham against Pontiac; Mt. Clemens against Berkeley; and Jackson against Ann Arbor.

Tuesday night, Fowler opened defense of its Class D championship with a 52-44 regional win over Merritt at Mt. Pleasant.

Allegan upset Holyland Christian in Class B regional play at Kalamazoo, taking a 47-39 win.

In Class A, Flint Northern, co-champions of the Saginaw Valley conference, opened its regional competition with a 68-44 win over Wosso at Flint.

Tourney notes:

Kalamazoo Central (13-1) brings an impressive record into the State High School regional playoffs this week. . . . The Class A team has won or shared the Southwestern Conference title for the last four years. . . . It won this season with a perfect 8-0 record. . . . Central plays Benton Harbor tonight Wednesday. . . . It whipped Benton Harbor twice during the season.

A total of 188 teams will participate in the regional eliminations. . . . Of these, 53 are Class A teams, who will be making their first tournament appearances. . . .

Most basketball fans are familiar with what last year's champions are doing in this year's tourney. . . . But what about the teams they beat last March for the titles—the ones which came so close yet to far. . . . What have they been doing this year. . . .

Well, all four from Classes A, B, C and E are still in the running and are playing in this week's regionals. . . . They are: Saginaw-Arthur Hill (Class A), Grand Blanc (Class B), (Algonac) Class C and (Copenish) Class D. . . . The last three, incidentally, swept through last week's district play in fine style. . . .

Adrian Hopes Dashed In Cage Tournament

KANSAS CITY (AP)—E a a t Texas College last night ended Adrian College's hopes in the NAIA basketball tournament with a 57-40 win over the small Michigan school.

Adrian trailed all the way. East Texas built up a 27-19 halftime edge and romped for 20 points in the final period to doom Adrian.

Guard Shelby Metcalf collected 20 points for the winners. Forward Bob Ohrman paced Adrian with 12 points.

Adrian was Michigan's only representative in the NAIA tournament which draws its entrants from the nation's smaller colleges.

Trojans Face Bessemer In Regional Opener Friday, Seek Elusive Cage Crown

The St. Joe Trojans begin their quest of an elusive Upper Peninsula Class C basketball championship at 7 Friday night in Houghton Tech's Sherman gymnasium, facing a highly regarded Bessemer Speed Boy quint.

Coach Tom St. Germain's St. Joe Trojans are familiar figures in Upper Peninsula championship tournaments. When St. Joe beat L'Anse Saturday night at Negaunee it marked the third straight year the Trojans had captured district honors in Class C.

For the past two straight years St. Joe has moved over first round regional foes only to lose by narrow margins in the championship games. Soo Loretto stopped St. Joe's title bid in 1951 and Houghton halted the Trojans in the 1952 finals.

RESERVE GUARDS—A pair of front line reserves for the St. Joe Trojans cage squad add considerably to the team depth. Bill Maycunich, left, and Jerry McDonough have seen action at the guard positions in almost all of the St. Joe games this season. Both will likely be called on to spell starters as the Trojans enter regional Class C tournament play at Houghton's Michigan Tech college gym this week. St. Joe will be making its third straight bid for an Upper Peninsula championship. (Daily Press Photo)

Boast Tall Center

Incidentally Houghton also disposed of Bessemer in the championship tournament last year, defeating the Speed Boys in the regional semifinals before downing St. Joe.

The Trojans will be facing one of the tallest players in the Upper Peninsula Friday night in the person of Jim Beissel, Bessemer center who stands six feet, seven inches. An excellent shot and outstanding rebounder, Beissel paces the Speed Boys in the scoring column.

But Beissel isn't the only scorer on the Bessemer team. Running the big boy a close second in that department is speedy Ken Carlson, sharp-shooting guard who makes the plays for the Speed Boys.

Post District Wins

In capturing the district title at Wakefield last weekend, Bessemer defeated Ontonagon 62-44 in the finals after disposing of Wakefield 72-56 in the semifinals.

Beissel scored 41 points and Carlson 35 in the two games. Neither player fouled out of action in district play.

Teaming up with Carlson at a starting guard has been Bob Pozoga while forward posts are held down by Ken Masse and Norman Crockett. Bob Harris, front line forward reserve, added 15 points to the scoreboard for Bessemer in the two district games.

Coached by Pete Fusi, former Michigan State College football star, Bessemer finished the regular season with 11 victories against four defeats. Losses were suffered to Ironwood (twice), Ashland and Iron River.

May Shuffle Starters

St. Joe enters the first game of the regionals with 15 victories in 18 starts this season. The defeats were suffered to Gladstone, Manistique and Rapid River.

The Trojan mentor has indicated this week that St. Joe's starting lineup may be shuffled for the Bessemer clash. Jim Zimmerman is likely to get a forward berth with Jim Gravelle. And sophomore Frank Mileski is pushing for the starting center job.

On the tournament travelling squad in addition to the above players, will be John Martinec, Bob Sendenburgh, Dick Bryson, Bill Maycunich, Dan Marsicek, Dave Hirm, Bill Lancour, Dick Cass and Jerry McDonough.

Sid Smith, Toronto Maple Leafs' Lady Byng Trophy winner, is the only member of the Maple Leafs who was born in Toronto.

Weldon Olson Most Valuable For Spartans

EAST LANSING (AP)—Henry Campanini, defenseman from West Springfield, Mass., was elected Michigan State hockey captain for the coming year by his teammates.

Weldon Olson, center from Marquette, was named "most valuable" player.

Olson, youngest of nine Upper Michigan hockey-playing brothers, was one of the Spartans' highest scorers this season and "the hardest worker on the squad, offensively and defensively," according to Coach Amo Bessone.

The 21-year-old sophomore, majoring in mechanical engineering, averaged 45 minutes of action in the Spartan games. He played the center spot on the No. 1 line and worked on the Spartan power-play with opponents in the penalty box.

(Weldon is the brother of Mark and Ted Olson of Escanaba, who have been closely associated with the Escanaba Hawks for a number of years.)

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Los Angeles—Jose Mongia, (21), Denver, outpointed Oscar Torres, 123-4, Los Angeles, 10.

Salt Lake City—Hein Ten Hoff, 220, Germany, knocked out Louie Clark, 223, Philadelphia, 2.

Miami Beach, Fla.—Johnny Saxton, 147, Brooklyn, and Wallace "Bud" Smith, 144½, Cincinnati, drew, 10.

NIT Quints Take Off For One-Day Recess

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Invitation Basketball Tournament takes a one-day break tonight after reducing the field to Duquesne, St. John's, top-seeded Seton Hall, which won a desperate battle over Niagara, 79-74 Tuesday night, and Manhattan.

Duquesne, which dumped Western Kentucky, 69-61, Tuesday night, tangles with St. John's of Brooklyn. Monday's upset conquerors of second-seeded La Salle, in one of the semifinals Friday night.

Seton Hall trailed Niagara for almost three quarters and led by only a single point with two minutes to play.

Sport Shorties

Bobby Shantz earned the title as "best fielding pitcher" by handling 78 chances without an error in 1952.

Although Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians did not have a good year in 1952, he managed to pitch his 11th one-hitter.

Michigan State's varsity baseball team has taken an annual spring southern tour since 1926, excluding the war years.

Ralph Young, Michigan State Director of Athletics, was an associate track coach for the 1932 U. S. Olympic team.

Minnie Minoso of the White Sox won the base stealing championship in the American League with 22—but was also caught stealing the most times, 16.

Has Two Of Giant Exhibition Victories

Wilhelm Hasn't Lost Magic

By BEN OLAN
(AP Sportswriter)

Apparently Hoyt Wilhelm never has heard of the second-year jinx. Wilhelm, last season's National League freshman pitching sensation, still is going about the business of saving games for the New York Giants. The 29-year-old knuckleballer has nailed down two of the three Giant exhibition victories so far.

Yesterday, Wilhelm relieved rookie Allan Worthington in the ninth inning with four runs in, the bases loaded and only one Chicago White Sox batter out. He promptly retired the next two hitters and the Giants staggered off with a 16-14 win.

Saved One Monday

In his first Grapefruit League appearance last Monday, against the Cleveland Indians, the six-foot-190-pound hurler also showed he had lost none of his magic touch. Then, with the tying runs on the bases in the ninth, he came in to thwart two Tribe batsmen, giving New York a 5-3 victory.

Wilhelm compiled quite an enviable record in 1952. He won 15 games and dropped only three for the senior league's best won-and-lost percentage of .833. Too, his 2.43 earned run average gave him the distinction of being the only relief pitcher in National League history to lead in that department.

This Charlotte, N. C., lad wasn't included in Manager Leo Durocher's plans when he joined the Giants in spring training last year. He had only an 11-14 record with Minneapolis of the American Association. But by midseason he had established himself as the club's No. 1 fireman.

One For Books

The Giants-White Sox homer-filled encounter was one for the books. New York trailed, 10-8, until they came up with eight runs in the eighth frame. Then the Chisox got to Worthington for their four tallies before Wilhelm snuffed out the rally. Whitey Lockman, Bobby Thomson, Daryl Spencer, Hank Thompson, Don Mueller and Ray Noble homered for the Giants while Chico Carrasquel and Minnie Mino hit for the circuit for the White Sox.

At this time of the year the pitchers are supposed to be ahead of the batters. But you couldn't prove it by the results of yesterday's games.

At Tampa, Fla., the Washington Senators shelled lefty Ken Raffensberger for nine hits and seven runs in three innings to overwhelm the Cincinnati Reds, 11-5.

Big Ten Coaches Select All-Stars

CHICAGO (AP)—Western Conference coaches were about as near to one mind as they'll ever be in selecting the annual Associated Press all-Big Ten basketball team.

For the 1953 team they chose: Paul Ebert, Ohio State, and Irv Bemoras, Illinois, forwards; Don Schlundt, Indiana, center and Chuck Mencil, Minnesota, and Bob Leonard, Indiana, guards.

Three of these players—Ebert, Schlundt and Leonard—appeared on the first-team ballot of every coach.

Name Second Team

Mencil made seven, with three second-team nods, and Bemoras five, with three coaches also giving him second-team recognition.

Second-team choices were Deacon Davis, Iowa, and Ed Kalafat, Minnesota, forwards; John Kerr, Illinois, center, and Al Ferrari, Michigan State, and Jim Bredar, Illinois, guards.

Schlundt and Ebert could hardly have missed all-star selection.

were the victims of Chicago's 10-hit attack.

The St. Louis Cardinals came up with the first serious casualty of the year in their game with the Boston Braves. Rookie shortstop Wally Lammers, attempting to steal, collided with Jack Dittmer of Boston and suffered a mild concussion. Dittmer also was forced to retire from the game.

The game eventually went to Boston, 7-5. They came from behind twice and then scored a pair of runs in the seventh inning to clinch the verdict. Rookie Jim Sol's pinch double was the vital hit in that frame.

Yanks Win 2-0

In the best-played game of the day, the World Champion New York Yankees blanked the Boston Red Sox, 2-0. A two-run spurge in the fourth inning was enough to give the Yankees their third victory in four exhibition starts.

Bob Wiesler, Johnny Schmitz and Johnny Sain combined to limit the Red Sox to only three safeties. At San Bernardino, the St. Louis

Browns surged for four runs on four hits in the eighth inning to defeat Los Angeles, 7-6.

In a night game, Junior Gilliam, tabbed as Jackie Robinson's eventual successor, singled in the winning run in the eighth inning as the Brooklyn Dodgers edged the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-2.

In another arc-lighter, the Philadelphia A's turned back the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-2. Carl Scheib and Frank Fanovich teamed up to limit the Bucs to eight scattered safeties.

NEW FACES IN TIGERS CAMP—Manager Fred Hutchinson talks to outfielders who are with the Detroit Tigers club for the first time at spring training in Lakeland, Fla. Left to

Rookie Hurlers Are Named To Share Nine-Inning Mound Job

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Two rookies were nominated to go the full nine innings today as the Detroit Tigers resume their grapefruit circuit schedule against the Boston Braves.

Manager Fred Hutchinson picked Paul Foytack and Hal Erickson to go four or five innings apiece. Up to now no Tiger hurler has done more than a three-inning stint.

From now on, though, Hutchinson plans to use only two hurlers to a game. Ray Herbert and Billy Hoelt are his choices to face the New York Yankees Thursday at St. Petersburg.

Idle Yesterday

Yesterday, with no game scheduled, was devoted to a vigorous batting drill and skull session. At the latter players were called on to explain some of their actions in the first three games, which the rejuvenated Tigers won.

Tiger president Spike Briggs spent part of the day looking over the club's new minor league camp just outside Lakeland. The first of 125 minor league players arrived yesterday and workouts were scheduled to begin today. Minor league managers Jack Tighe and Paul Campbell will run the camp.

Hutchinson told reporters he is particularly pleased with the performances of Harvey Kuenn, the $55,000 bonus shortstop, and Owen Friend, a second baseman who is one of several ex-St. Louis Browns on the squad.

Double Play Duo

Friend has figured in six of the seven double plays the Tigers executed in the first three games and Kuenn figured in five. Friend's two homers were the big blows in the Detroit win over the Phillies to start the exhibition season and he has a .375 average. Kuenn, with a triple and single in Monday's victory over the Cincinnati Reds, has a .250 mark.

"They're off to a fine start," said Hutchinson. "We knew Kuenn could hit, and we're happy to see him doing so well with the ball. Friend has a good strong arm and looks like he might be the man we need at second."

Kuenn hit .325 with the Tigers in their final 19 games last season after being brought up from Davenport in the minors. Friend was a regular with the Browns in 1950 but spent the past two seasons in the Army.

Little Lebanon Makes NCAA Cage Regionals

NEW YORK (AP)—Lebanon Valley's Midgets are headed for the NCAA basketball regionals after whipping Fordham, 80-67, in one of Tuesday night's six games which reduced the field to four for each of the four regional tourneys Friday and Saturday.

Lebanon Valley, with only one man over six feet, used just five men in winning its 19th game in 20 starts. The flying Dutchmen from Pennsylvania come from the smallest school ever to compete in the NCAA title event. The school's rollment is around 500 with about 250 boys.

The victory sent Lebanon Valley into the Raleigh, N. C., regional along with Holy Cross which eliminated Navy, 87-74, in the other half of a doubleheader at Philadelphia.

Irish Post Win

De Paul and Notre Dame also moved ahead in a double-header at Fort Wayne, Ind., while Santa Clara and Seattle did the same in single games at Palo Alto, Calif., and Seattle, respectively.

De Paul edged Miami of Ohio, 74-72; Notre Dame whipped Eastern Kentucky, 72-57; Santa Clara eliminated Hardin-Simmons 81-56 and Seattle defeated Idaho State, 88-77, with Johnny O'Brien, tossing in 42 points.

The lineup for the first round of the regionals:
At Raleigh, N. C. — Wake Forest vs. Holy Cross and Louisiana State vs. Lebanon Valley.
At Chicago — Pennsylvania vs. Notre Dame and De Paul vs. Indiana.

At Cornvallis, Ore. — Washington vs. Seattle and Santa Clara vs. Wyoming.

Win On Gift Tosses

At Manhattan, Kans. — Kansas vs. Oklahoma City and Texas Christian vs. Oklahoma Aggies.

Lou Sorrentino, a sawed-off junior, paced the Lebanon Valley attack with 30 points as the Dutchmen won the game from the foul line. Fordham's Rams didn't connect with a free throw in the first half and made only five in 16 attempts as Lebanon was charged with just 10 fouls. The winners made good on 28 of 35.

Ronnie Feiereisel hit a jump shot with three seconds to go to give De Paul its two-point victory over Miami.

Notre Dame had an easy time with Eastern Kentucky in chalking up its 18th victory in 22 starts.
